'KILL, KILL' YELLS
MOB IN MILWAUKEE

By KEN HARTNETT

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Negro open - housing demonstrators, saved by a barrage of police tear gas from surging walls of screaming, rock - throwing whites, returned to their headquarters Tuesday night and watched it ravaged by flames.

Fire officials said the fire that destroyed the headquarters of the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was caused by an arsonist.

The blaze erupted less than an hour after council members, led by their adviser, the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest, escaped from a white through police estimated at 13,000.

The hecklers spilled over sidewalks along the 22-block route that took the marchers deep into the predominantly Polish South Side.

Confirmation Of Marshall Expected Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thurgood Marshall's supporters are confident the Senate will confirm him as the first Negro Supreme Court justice in the nation's history.

The opposition is led by Southern senators who contend Marshall is a "judicial activist," or judge who they say interprets the Constitution to suit personal notions rather than its true intent.

A vote on confirmation was expected today.

President Johnson nominated Marshall June 13 to succeed retiring Associate Justice Tom C. Clark.

The Senate Judiciary Committee recommended confirmation earlier this month 11 to 5, with only its Southern members dissenting.

The great grandson of a slave and the son of a sleeping-car porter, Marshall was for many years chief legal officer for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

LINDBERGH PLANE BUILDER DIES

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP) — William Hawley Bowler, 72, who designed and built Charles Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis, died Sunday. Bowler was plant manager of Ryan Airlines in San Diego, Calif., in 1927 when he designed Lindbergh's famous trans-Atlantic plane.

Opinions Differ On 'Happening' At Church

By EDITH LEDERER

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 400 tattooed artists, architects and religious leaders wearing rope nooses around their necks tried out the "hippie" life of psychedelic lights, discordant music and spontaneous happenings Tuesday night—at a Greenwich Village church.

The happening—officially billed as an "ordeal"—started with a kiss and ended with an order, "Get out!" and a push out the door.

For more than an hour, the participants took turns facing the hot lights of a police line-up, listening to bedtime stories while curled up with stuffed animals on long church pew cushions, and crawling through a blackened simulation of purgatory.

"It was a trip—like what those LSD trips must be like," said one smiling nun as she emerged from the Judson Memorial church.

Bank Robber Slays Three; Suspect Held

OVERTON, Nev. (AP) — The manager of a bank and his two women tellers were herded into a vault late Tuesday and shot to death. A 24-year-old man was later arrested and charged with murder and robbery.

The slayings were discovered by a farmer, Norman T. Shurtliff, who had gone to the bank to talk about a loan.

The bank manager, Larry Staley, 27, and the tellers—Vera Walkington, 30, and Betty Heitmann, 40—were each shot in the head. Normally, two other persons work at the Overton branch of the Bank of Las Vegas but both were off.

Terry Lynn Conger, a construction worker, was taken into custody at his home in the farming community of Moapa, about 15 miles northeast of Overton. He was booked into Carbon County Jail on charges of murder and robbery.

An audit to determine the amount taken will be made today.

A short time before the three were slain, sheriff's officers said, a young man tried to rob a bait shop two blocks away.

A clerk, Adella Maxey, said the man asked for shells for a gun and then, as she turned, demanded that she give him all the store's money.

She took about $30 from a cash register, Mrs. Maxey told police, but the man said: "If that's all you've got, forget it. It's not worth my life or your life."

Mrs. Maxey said he then said he had been kidding, and talked with her for 10 minutes before buying beer and leaving.

Mrs. Maxey telephoned Deputy Sheriff Cleo Whitney, and Whitney was in the bait store when word came of the bank killings.

Roadblocks were set up, and about an hour later Conger's car was spotted by a pilot, which led to his arrest.

$1,240 THEFT SPOILS 25th ANNIVERSARY TRIP

HONOLULU (AP) — A theft of some $1,240 in cash from the beach at Waikiki has spoiled an Illinois couple's 25th wedding anniversary trip to Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schleitwiler of Lyons, Ill., had just returned from Church Sunday and gone to the beach for a swim when the beach bag was stolen containing the money Schleitwiler had brought for the vacation.

The bag was found within two hours but all the money was gone.

Schleitwiler, a supervisor for an appliance manufacturing company, plans to leave this weekend, a week ahead of schedule. Their silver anniversary is on Sept. 5.

They arrived Aug. 19 with two longtime friends from home, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson—who are in Hawaii to celebrate their own silver anniversary on Sept. 25.

NAZI INSIGNIA BARRED — CULPEPER, Va. — A member of the American Nazi Party jumps to the roof of the hearse bearing the body of George Lincoln Rockwell as Party members stormed lines of MP's at the National Cemetery here in an effort to bury the slain leader. The Nazis were refused entry to the Cemetery as long as they wore Swastika armbands, and made several attempts to force their way past the military and State Policemen blocking their way. Thieu Says May Try To Halt Bombing North

By BARRY KRAMER

SAIGON (AP) — Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, the front-running military candidate for president in Sunday's elections, said today that if elected he may try to halt the bombing of North Vietnam for more than the one week he has been proposing.

A longer pause would depend on a favorable response from Hanoi and on agreement from the United States, Thieu stressed in a talk with newsmen after a campaign speech to more than 10,000 Vietnamese troops.

Report Nasser Foiled Coup Against Regime

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Reports circulated in Arab capitals today that Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser had foiled a planned coup against his government by arresting Marshal Abdel Abdul Hakim Amer, his former trusted lieutenant, and a large number of senior army officers.

The reports did not appear in print in most Arab capitals where the press is controlled, but a Kuwait newspaper carried an account and diplomatic sources said they had picked up various versions of it in Algiers, Khartoum, Tunis and other Arab points.

"We have no direct information," one Western diplomatic source in the Middle East said. "All our reports are second-hand. But they have spread so wide and so fast that we are inclined to believe something is going on in Cairo."

Sources described the reported purge as a series of "pre-emptive house arrests."

Up to 150 Egyptian generals and colonels have been reported detained.

One source said the officers may have been placed in detention "to tamp things down" during Nasser's absence at the Arab summit meeting in Khartoum, Sudan.

Others said an army plot to overthrow Nasser was actually hatching and the mass arrests had nipped it in the bud.

Rockwell Body Unburied; Location Unrevealed

By JOSEPH A. MOHBAT

CULPEPER, Va. (AP) — It was just the kind of near-funeral George Lincoln Rockwell might have wanted.

His small, fanatic band of American Nazis gained center stage in full glare of the national spotlight Tuesday—confronted by the U.S. Army, surrounded by television cameras. Rockwell had cherished publicity—and did many things to get it.

As a corpse he attained his ultimate publicity. But at the end of a day at times so weird it was like a bad movie, the body of the slain "Fuhrer" remained unburied and the Nazis refused to reveal where his body was or what they planned to do with it.

Rockwell's followers refused to doff their Nazi insignia and leave their swastika flag behind to enter the peaceful little Culpeper National Cemetery and bury their assassinated chief.

But those were the ground rules laid down by the Army. And when it came time for the government gravediggers to go home the Army rescinded its permission for ex-Navy Cmdr. Rockwell to be interred in Culpeper—or any other military cemetery.

A short, trim, soft-spoken major general announced the Army's change of heart after the hearse bearing Rockwell surrounded by five uniformed mourners and perhaps two dozen in civilian clothes, spent five hours at the gate of the shaded, usually serene burial ground.

A chorus of booing and "Heil Hitler!"—arms upraised and all—greeted the announcement by Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner, Army provost marshal.

But the Nazis returned to their headquarters in Arlington, Va., to ponder what to do with their leader, who was killed by a sniper outside a coin laundry last Friday.

They wouldn't talk to newsmen Tuesday night. And the Arlington funeral home to which the body was returned refused (Turn To Page Eight)

Expect Viet Military Candidates To Carry High-Vote Rural Area

SAIGON (AP) — Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, the military candidates for president and vice president in Sunday's election, appear certain to carry the rural areas where 80 per cent of the voters live.

The leading civilian candidate, former Premier Tran Van Huong, is making inroads against the military ticket in the urban areas of the eight major cities. He is expected to get more votes than his nine civilian rivals but not nearly enough to overtake the powerful military bloc.

These are the conclusions of Associated Press correspondents who felt the pulse of the country in interviews with more than 300 voters.

The interviews indicated that only about one per cent of the 5.85 million registered voters

UAW Plans To Reject GM Offer

By KIT KINCADE

DETROIT (AP) — Leaders of the United Auto Workers today made plans to reject a contract proposal called by a General Motors negotiator "the highest wage increase ever offered the UAW" by the Big Three automakers.

As the union studied nearly identical offers made Tuesday by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, a top concern was which company to pick as a contract target.

The union traditionally focuses on one firm and drives to a settlement there through negotiation or strike. Three-year contracts covering 65,000 workers at the Big Three expire at midnight Tuesday.

Chrysler's top negotiator said the union's rejection of Tuesday's offer was "less than enthusiastic."

The union had no immediate comment.

National union negotiating committees at the Big Three meet today to examine the offer and to forge their expected rejection arguments.

The UAW's International Executive Board meets today and Thursday to consider ratification of the committee's action and to pick the target.

3,500 Teachers Plan To Resign In Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The first classroom showdown on Florida's educational spending problems developed today as Pinellas County the state's fifth largest, opened the new school year with half of its 3,500 teachers preparing to resign before dark.

Members of the Pinellas Classroom Teachers Association, which claims to represent about 90 per cent of the county's teachers, signed resignations Tuesday night to become effective at 5 p.m. today.

Whitney B. Newcomb Jr., vice president of the association, said 1,606 resignations were submitted Tuesday and "we expect more today."

In Clearwater, the county seat, school Supt. Thomas A. Southard said he would "remain hopeful as long as we have one minute left."

"We will utilize every means that we know to replace these teachers if it is necessary," Southard said. But he added that a list of available substitute teachers does not include "nearly that many names."

The resignations were the latest in a series of actions by teachers in the wake of sanctions imposed two months ago by the Florida Education Association and the National Education Association.

The teacher associations seeking higher pay, invoked sanctions for what they termed inadequate financial support of the state's schools.

MILK DEALERS, UNION REACH PACT AGREEMENT

CHICAGO (AP) — Agreement was reached Tuesday night on a new three-year contract by milk dealers and union negotiators, ending the threat of the third milk strike in the Chicago area since May.

Members of the Chicago Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, Teamsters Local 753, were expected to take a ratification vote later in the week. Four previous contract proposals were turned down by union members.

The new contract calls for a six-day delivery week and $13 in weekly raises over a three-year period.

Douglas Brown, a federal mediator who presided over talks Tuesday, said he was confident "the contract will get through."

Combination strike - lockouts halted milk deliveries twice in May, each time for two days.

Expect Dramatic U. S. Move After Viet Election

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is keeping Congress in the dark on the possibility of a change in U.S. policy after Sunday's elections in South Vietnam.

There is wide expectation in the Senate that Johnson will make some dramatic move shortly after the new government is chosen.

Speculation ranges from a possible reopening of the Vietnam issue before the United Nations, with an accompanying suspension of bombing in the North, to a signal to Saigon to undertake independent negotiations with the Viet Cong.

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Tuesday there was no discussion of the Vietnam war when Democratic congressional leaders conferred with the President at the White House Monday night.

This meeting took place only a few hours after Mansfield led a demonstration of support in the Senate for any presidential move that might be made to stir up U.N. debate on means to negotiate the conflict.

Mansfield's move again was rebuffed by U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant, whose earlier stance that the United Nations can't help settle the war because North Vietnam and Red China have no seats in the world body was reaffirmed by a U.N. spokesman Tuesday.

The Democratic leader said he hopes if chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu is elected president he will carry out a campaign promise to invite peace negotiations with the Viet Cong.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he had heard no intimations the elections will alter American policies. He added that whatever happens he does not expect the President to stop the bombing.

Dirksen, a supporter of Johnson's war course, said he has had no word the President is planning any U.N. move.

SHATTERING BLOW TO SOUTH PRESTIGE

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP)—Communist soldiers boldly moved into a provincial capital early today under cover of a heavy mortar barrage and freed 997 prisoners in the most dramatic action of the Red campaign to disrupt and discredit South Vietnam's presidential election.

Moving at 2 a.m. today into the capital of Quang Ngai Province, some 300 miles above Saigon, an evidently large force of Communist troops rapidly split up, hit the provincial prison and the headquarters of the South Vietnamese 2nd Infantry Division and mortared the American advisory compound.

Although some 400 prisoners were retaken by dawn, the daring raid was a shattering blow in one of the largest cities in the south. The missing captives include some criminals as well as large numbers of Viet Cong suspects, the equivalent of a full battalion of reinforcements.

At the same time Quang Ngai was under attack, the Communists hit in Thua Thien Province about 50 miles to the north, mortaring a U.S. Marine helicopter field, a radio station, a U.S. Seabee camp and a South Vietnamese training center. Thirteen helicopters were damaged.

In another attempt to hamper Red infiltration into the northern area, B52s made two heavy strikes today inside the demilitarized zone dividing Vietnam. Both raids were above the Marine outpost of Con Thien on the jungle route which is the shortest North Vietnamese entry to South Vietnam.

Fighter-bombers again streaked off at dawn to hit the Red gun and mortar positions just above the DMZ. The Reds have installed there an unknown number of 152mm guns with a range about 18 miles.

Despite the Communist attacks, the election campaign went on outwardly unaffected in preparation for election day Sunday.

Nuclear Curb Progress

Joint U.S.-Soviet presentation of a draft of a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons is cause for modest optimism. This much agreement is significant progress toward management of one of the most acute problems facing mankind.

It would be unrealistic, however, not to acknowledge that the present draft has a bad limp. Though the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference has considered this matter since 1962, with a gradual narrowing of differences between the United States and the Soviet Union, the agreement now offered does not include the vital question of control and inspection.

There is sound reason to hope that the two leading nuclear powers will be able to work out compromises in this area. Much depends on their mutual will to reach agreement, and there is evidence that this will is strong on both sides despite Moscow's insistent references to Vietnam as an obstacle in negotiation. The draft treaty itself, though the inspection article is left blank, is testimony that this obstacle can be surmounted when matters of common interest are at stake.

That description certainly applies to the non-proliferation treaty. The best interests not only of the United States and Russia but of all the world would be served by its general acceptance. Even though this is widely recognized, one of the most difficult remaining tasks will be to persuade non-nuclear nations — excluding France and Communist China, which are determined to go it alone — that the treaty contains adequate provision for their security without nuclear weapons, as well as guarantees that they can fully share in the benefits of nuclear technology.

An important forward step has been taken. It remains to be seen whether final agreement after more months of negotiation will bear out President Johnson's description of the draft as evidence "that despite all his problems, quarrels and distraction, man still retains the capacity to design his fate rather than be engulfed by it." Those grim alternatives are what is fundamentally involved here.

Finley Goes Too Far

They laughed when Charles O. Finley bought the Kansas City Athletics late in 1960. True, he had a flair for dramatics, but success in the insurance business didn't mean he'd be a success in baseball.

They've been laughing at, or with, Finley ever since. His seven years in baseball have been anything but dull. He put the A's in flamboyant uniforms and white shoes. He had a goat for a mascot. Sheep grazed beyond the outfield fence. He often threatens to move the club — to Milwaukee, Oakland, Dallas, New Orleans.

But baseball fans aren't laughing much at Finley now. They're crying. He's just fired Manager Alvin Dark. He did this after receiving a statement from the players, who accused Finley of undermining the morale of the ball club by using informers to spy on them. They suggested that he give the manager and coaches the authority they should have and quit meddling.

Finley reacted by firing Dark, who was about to receive a new two-year contract. He also released first baseman Ken Harrelson, who was quoted as calling Finley "a menace" to the game.

During his seven years as club owner, Finley has fired seven managers. By now Kansas City should have had about enough of him. If he finds a new home for the club, Kansas Citians may well say "So what?" and give their all to football and the Kansas City Chiefs.

Viet War Opponents Seek Political Expression

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The sizeable elements in the Democratic party opposed to the Vietnam war are divided and uncertain about how to give political expression to their view.

Whether they can unite on a course of action is one interesting angle to watch in the developing 1968 political picture.

It is antiwar sentiment which energizes the "draft Kennedy" effort.

This is of course not the sole motivation. It embraces admirers of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., as a man and those attracted by what he has said about domestic matters.

But without the antiwar feeling the draft Kennedy movement would have wrecked long ago on the rock of Kennedy's repeated assertions that he supports President Johnson for re-election.

As it is, Citizens for Kennedy, with headquarters in New York, claims some 60 chapters scattered across the country. Dr. Martin Shepard, the New York co-chairman, says it is continuing to grow.

Opposition to the war also has fueled the organization of the National Conference for New Politics which convenes Friday in Chicago. It embraces antiwar and civil rights groups. There is talk this gathering may lead to the fielding of a national ticket.

et of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., for president, and Dr. Benjamin Spock for vice president. Both are strongly critical of Johnson's Vietnam policies.

However, Spock, a pediatrician nationally known for his writings on baby care, deprecated the likelihood of a national ticket in a letter to a Washington acquaintance.

"If it should decide on a national ticket, which I think not very likely, it would probably be a standby ticket, pending the selections of the Republican and Democratic nominees," he wrote.

"If either old party chose a half-peaceful candidate, I would think any New Politics national ticket would certainly be withdrawn."

Spock's letter was to Joseph L. Rauh, a Washington lawyer who is seeking to unite "peace Democrats" behind a movement for a peace plank in the 1968 Democratic platform.

Rauh's plan contemplates an effort from the grass roots level to elect peace delegates to the convention. Selection of delegates will begin early next year.

In late July, he sent a 15-page memorandum outlining his ideas to some 350 Democrats. This argued that a third party (New Politics) or "dump Johnson" (draft Kennedy) effort were the weakest political moves the peace movement could make.

On the other hand, he contended, an effort on behalf of a peace plank would be a strong move. He suggested that if beaten in the platform committee, a minority report could be brought in and debated in the convention with the full exposure of the television networks.

A built-in factor of strength for Rauh's plan is that most of the Senate and House doves presumably will be delegates to the convention. They are men of influence in their state parties. It is unlikely, for instance, that Arkansas Democrats would refuse to make Sen. J. W. Fulbright a delegate if he wants to be one.

Rauh said in an interview he has received expressions of support from four state Democratic chairmen, but only Robert L. Coate of northern California was willing to be quoted by name.

Rauh said he received requests for his memo and expressions of support from about 50 others who are active in the party. Many came by telephone rather than letter, he said, and added: "I think I have detected a real fear to be quoted in opposition to the war."

Free Radio Potent Foe Of Communism

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — One reason for Communist strength in Vietnam today is that for 10 crucial years the Reds had overwhelming superiority in propaganda — including radio propaganda.

Vietnamese heard the Communist line day in and day out. There was little to counter it.

The same situation was held in northeastern Thailand, where Communists are building strength. Though there is a Thai government station in the area, this effort is outgunned by the Communists.

This Communist propaganda superiority exists in many parts of the world.

At this time, therefore, it is tragic that Free Cuba Radio has gone off the air — for lack of funds. The operation beamed 13 hours a day of information to Latin America through stations in Miami, New Orleans, Santo Domingo and Key West.

Over the past seven years, its programs have helped keep hope — and sabotage — alive in Cuba. Listeners in such Latin American Communist target countries as Venezuela, Bolivia, Colombia, Argentina and Mexico have voluntarily organized groups, gone out into the countryside to counter Red propaganda among the farmers.

The programs have received letters from 45 countries. It blanketed Latin America's 20 countries and the islands in the Caribbean.

Students, labor unions, women's groups and government officials have written in giving the programs credit for getting out the vote in elections in countries from Chile to the Dominican Republic.

What Free Cuba Radio did in the main was to attempt to get people on their own, without outside help, to solve their own problems in a democratic way by local action. The stations encouraged local groups to work for democratic elections and democratic institutions in their own way. The stations did not enter into local politics — though they gave the facts on communism.

Yet this program over all cost probably less than $300,000 a year.

Probably the major achievement of Free Cuba Radio has been to help keep up the morale of hundreds of thousands of Cubans who might have otherwise lost hope completely.

The programs have carried bread and butter advice to Cubans under Castro — techniques mothers could use to unbrainwash their children when they'd come home from hours of Communist drilling in Castro's schools, details on how to sabotage when cutting sugar cane, when riding in buses, at work in a factory and suggestions on how to hold up under Red pressures.

Official U.S. government propaganda stations will continue to operate programs beamed to Latin America. But there are many things a privately operated group of stations can do that the U.S. government can't.

Private stations can be a great deal franker for one thing. They give a nonofficial point of view. They don't have to be lukewarm for fear of diplomatic repercussions.

It is unfortunate that we have not learned that it is cheaper and more effective to spend more energy and funds in encouraging the peoples in other countries to build the institutions that will fight communism. Radio, by itself, will not prevent Vietnams. But some radio programs can help.

Ann Landers:

BIG Men Humble, Courteous

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I reply to the Sacramento reader who described himself as a "busy executive" and resented being asked his name or the nature of his business by "self-important" secretaries.

As a secretary who has worked in both private industry and government I can tell you that the bigger the man, the more humble and courteous he is, on the phone as well as in person. I served as secretary to the late Honorable Adlai E. Stevenson when he was in Washington on United Nations business. Mr. Stevenson never failed to identify himself when he placed a call personally.

President Kennedy did the same. Many an astonished secretary nearly dropped the phone when she heard that famous voice say, "This is Jack Kennedy. Is Mr. Doe in?"

So please tell that joker out in California that if two of the greatest men of our century can identify themselves when they want to speak to someone, he can, too. —FLORIDA

Dear Florida: Amen, Sister, Amen.

Dear Ann Landers: Usually your advice is sound and solid, but I was badly let down when you told the man who seduced a young, innocent girl that he had no reason to feel guilty. Your words were: "After all, you didn't chloroform her. It's up to the young lady to call the signals and hold that line."

I don't buy your theory that if a guy doesn't use chloroform he needn't have any twinges of conscience. Some girls at 15 are very mature. They know all the answers. Others at 15 are children. They may appear worldly-wise and talk a good game, but they don't have any real information. These girls are pathetically vulnerable and they often wind up in trouble.

My father was a wise and wonderful man. He taught his sons that honorable men don't deceive girls to obtain sex satisfaction and that virgins were strictly off limits. —E. U. H. OF DANVILLE

Dear E. U. H.: The world could use more fathers like the one you had. But my advice still stands. I, too, feel sorry for the girls who get conned, but one of my chief missions is to let them know they must watch out for themselves. Most boys didn't have fathers like yours. They will take anything that's offered plus whatever they can talk a girl out of.

Dear Ann: Recently I read where a high school girl wanted to know if she should take a picture of her friend in the casket and give it to the bereaved parents. You were somewhat noncommittal. I wish you had told her NO.

My mother died when I was 12. An aunt took pictures of her in the casket — two large photographs on slick paper and several smaller snapshots. Her face looked painted, like a doll's, and the expression on her mouth was cruel — one I had never seen.

That was 46 years ago, Ann, and those pictures still haunt me. I have never forgotten how Mother looked when she was alive, her beautiful, sparkly blue eyes and her warm smile, but the picture in the casket always comes first. After a shudder

If you serve them the ice cream first, they won't eat the spinach. —Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), opposing extra funds for senatorial staff help as possibly endangering passage of a congressional reorganization bill.

Dear Reader: I agree. From now on when asked I will no longer be noncommittal. I shall remember your letter and say "no."

Hippies May Make Impact In Future

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
AP Science Writer

Who are the hippies and where are they going? Have they something to say?

On the face of it, they are merely shaggy young people in let's-pretend garb, many of whom smoke marijuana and offer daffodils to strangers. Their watchword is love, their ploy the "put-on," or mockery of convention. They go for beards and long hair, conversation, contemplation, sexual freedom and a minimum of work.

But they may be much more than they appear.

"What they have to offer is very, very real," says Dr. Leonard Wolf, a professor of literature at San Francisco State College, who works closely with them. "They are saying, 'Stop making war; it is ugly. Quit pushing me until I know who I am.' They want people to believe in love that is personal, not abstract."

The use of narcotics by many hippies horrifies their critics and worries many of their supporters.

Wolf admits it bothers him. But he says the illusion-creating drug LSD should be studied "for it might very well teach many people how to be more loving if more were known about it."

Wolf says, "The youngsters know that I don't take drugs, but I don't quarrel with them about taking drugs."

He and some 40 other faculty members have a cooperative venture going with the hippies. They call it "a happening house," but it is no building. Free-wheeling classes assemble in parks, schools, homes, churches. They explore matters ranging from American Indians to natural childbirth.

"It's part of an organic searching process," says Wolf. "We are their resources. They can use us as they would any other resource. They are building, and we stand by and assist."

California Gov. Ronald Reagan's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth has declared the hippies constitute "a problem in youthful nonconformity." The 21-member advisory group plans to study them in San Francisco along with the teen-agers who gather in the Sunset Strip area of Los Angeles.

"The hippies have had the courage to forego work," says Dr. William B. Boyd, vice chancellor of student affairs at the University of California, Berkeley.

"We have made work sacred; we have made work the object of our lives, the source of our fulfillment," Boyd said in a recent speech. "We are rapidly heading into a world in which our Protestant work-ethic will simply be inadequate" because automated machines will be doing most of the world's tasks.

Boyd said the hippies "represent a kind of laboratory from which we may discover secrets that will help us cope with a world in which the quality of human relationships will be more important than our absorbing the jobs."

At the university's Institute of Human Development, researchers have been studying a cross-section of people from 1928, following them from babyhood, through childhood and adolescence, then checking them again at age 30, when they have become parents.

The institute's Dr. Jean Macfarlane says: "In following the individual lives of our group, we have found that a large proportion of the most mature, wisest, and effective subjects as adults are those who early had severe confusions and difficulties to meet."

"They not only lived through them but profited from them and gained maturity and strength in the process—this in contrast to our early dire predictions for many of them."

"Looking at our figures and at individual lives, it seems clear that the way one matures is by living through maturing experiences."

The hippie has taken life in his hands and walked out on a system that offered him lots of rewards, says Wolf.

The hippies' revolutionary gesture is an attempt to say no to the ugly, yes to the positive in life, says Wolf.

"Their, along with the civil rights movement, is the style of rebellion for this decade," he says. "It will have a vast influence on the American way of life."

On the House

By ANDY LANG

Dip your hand into the paint, squeeze off the excess and go to work. But be sure there's a paint mitt on your hand.

Since it takes advantage of the natural manageability of your hand, the paint mitt is gaining wide acceptance as an excellent tool for applying paint and other finishing materials to pipes, contoured, irregular and hard-to-reach surfaces of all kinds.

Usually made of lambskin, the mitt can be used for such things as basement pipes and tanks, gutters, downspouts, yard light poles, wrought iron railings, air conditioning pipes and ducts, metal fences, flagpoles. It's good for painting behind radiators, stoves and refrigerators and for sprucing up weathervanes and all kinds of farm equipment.

While the mitt applies most types of paints to all kinds of surfaces, a little more care must be exercised in the selection of the mitt's big brother, the paint roller. In the latter case, the roller cover may be made of any one of half a dozen or more types of materials, including wool, mohair, lambskin and various synthetics.

Most dealers can help you choose the one best suited for the type of painting you are to do. But there is one rule of thumb that applies at all times: the rougher the surface to be painted, the longer the nap of the roller cover or, to put it the opposite way, the smoother the surface, the shorter the nap.

Roller covers usually come in short, medium and long naps. The short nap is for smooth surfaces such as regular plaster and dry wall. The medium nap is for slightly rough surfaces like stucco and smooth concrete. The long nap is for rough surfaces like brick, heavy Spanish plaster, heavy stucco and cement block.

Some paint stores have special charts that tell exactly the kind of roller to use for a particular surface.

One sure way to get a uniform application of paint when using a roller is to roll in various directions, rather than just back and forth in a single direction. Don't press down. Let the roller do the work.

On a vertical surface, the first stroke should be upward, lightly and evenly. If you roll too fast, a light spray will result. Don't spin the roller at the end of a stroke. And always paint from a dry portion into a wet area.

Dinner Honors Fugger Sisters At Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE — A farewell dinner was held at the Christian Church, Tuesday noon, Aug. 22, for Miss Irma Fugger and sister, Miss Laura Fugger, who have since moved to St. Louis. The ladies received a gift from the Room-For-You Class and another from the Dorcas Class. Serving as co-chairmen were the president of the Room-For-You Class, Mrs. Ruby Denny, and the president of the Dorcas Class, Mrs. Bertha Welch. They were assisted by fellow members of their classes. There were thirty-three in attendance.

Roodhouse Notes
Visitors in the home of Mrs. Ruby Denny recently were her sister, Mrs. Marjorie Ohmart, Miami, Fla.; and Robert Wildhagen, Orlando, Fla.; and Mr. and Mrs. Norm Karow, Park Ridge. A dinner was served at Mrs. Denny's home Monday night, Aug. 21, attended by the out of town visitors and Mrs. Denny's brothers, Chester Alred and Junius Alred, Roodhouse. Those visiting also spent some time with Jacksonville relatives.

Carl Denny, a 1967 North Greene graduate, is on a six-day canoe trip with others of his age. The young men left on the trip from Akers, Mo., and will make a 50-mile trip on the river before returning.

Mrs. Andrew Witty, Alton, was an overnight visitor in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Rees, Jr., Wednesday, Aug. 23, to help Mrs. Rees celebrate her birthday anniversary on Thursday, Aug. 24. Also a caller in the same home during the day was a niece, Mrs. Don Littler, Jacksonville.

Mrs. Edna Davis Strawn, Jacksonville, formerly of Roodhouse, is a patient at Passavant hospital, Jacksonville, following a fall at her home from which she sustained a broken right hip. Mrs. Strawn had suffered a broken left hip some years ago.

Mrs. E. G. Smith and Mrs. Buell Ford have returned from a trip to Mississippi where they visited Mrs. Smith's aunt, Mrs. R. O. Goodman, Ecu, Miss.; and with nephews, Jamie Coker and Joe Coker and families in Memphis, Tenn.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Smith have been their daughter, Mrs. Wilbur L. Stahr, and children, Katherine and John, Fulton, Mo. Mrs. Stahr and son have returned home but Katherine remained for a longer visit with her grandparents.

Chandlerville

CHANDLERVILLE — Sherrill Cox, formerly of Chandlerville and Jacksonville, now living in Tennessee, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carlock and daughter returned home Friday after a trip to Lincoln, Neb. where they visited Mrs. Carlock's brother, Jack Marcy and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Anderson of Peoria were Saturday visitors of her sister, Mrs. Maureen Gerdes and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt and family of Creve Couer spent the weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hunt and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Finch and family of Springfield were weekend visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Finch and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nicholson and son of Quincy were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson and Miss Jessie Nicholson.

Ora Collins of Pecatonica spent the weekend with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cadamuro and Abbie Jo returned Monday to their home in Miami, Fla. after a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Abbott and other relatives.

Miss Margaret Ann Warner, who is employed in Chicago,

J. M. STRODE HOUSE—View of kitchen in the home, one of six homes open to the public at Galena, Illinois Sept. 23 and 24 on the 18th annual Tour of Historic Galena Homes. THE DOCTOR SAYS

Annoying Head Noises Have Variety of Causes

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Judging from my mail, annoying head noises have become so prevalent as to constitute an epidemic. Instead of answering each letter separately I will try to cover them all in a single note on the subject. Most readers complain that the noises are present night and day but in a few they are worse at night. They are variously described as a ringing in the ears, hissing, roaring, buzzing and the sound of running water, chirping crickets, frying bacon or escaping steam.

Head noises may occur in persons of any age but they are more commonly heard and more continuous in persons who are past 50 and who have hardening of the arteries. They are aggravated by worry and nervous tension so, if the noises make you tense, you have the makings of a vicious circle.

To readers who wonder whether exposure to noise or sitting under a hair dryer could cause or aggravate the condition, the answer is no.

In some persons ringing in the ears occurs only when they have a cold. In this case the cause is the swelling that obstructs the eustachian tubes that may accompany a cold. In some persons a pulsating noise is heard only when they are in bed or lying on the left side. In them the heart beat is amplified by the bed springs and transmitted through the pillow.

In a few persons the noises they complain of can be heard by others — usually a spouse or the doctor. In them the cause has been shown to be a malformation of a blood vessel in the skull. When the head noises are associated with dizziness and nausea the victim may have Meniere's disease.

If the cause can be found and removed the problem is solved but if the cause is hardening of the arteries, as it is in the vast majority of cases, there is little that can be done in the way of treatment. A short course of a tranquilizer may help the victim to adjust to the annoyance. Niacin may improve his circulation. Potassium iodide has been used for many years to treat this condition but there is no evidence that it is effective.

Reports of improvement with this or other drugs are hard to evaluate because the condition often improves with time even though it doesn't completely disappear. Furthermore, many victims learn after awhile to disregard their head noises and go about their daily tasks just as though nothing had happened.

Stamps In The News

By SID KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

EUGENE O'Neill, winner of four Pulitzer Prizes and a Nobel Prize for literature, will be the first American playwright to be honored with a U.S. stamp.

The $1 O'Neill stamp, part of the "Prominent Americans" series, will be issued Oct. 16 at New London, Conn., the playwright's boyhood home. The design features a portrait of O'Neill based on a photograph which captures his characteristic brooding mood. The stamp will be printed in dark purple.

O'Neill was born Oct. 16, 1888, in New York—79 years before the issuance of his special stamp. He died in Boston Nov. 27, 1953.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance covering the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, New London, Conn. 06320. The envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First-Day Covers Eugene O'Neill Stamp." Requests must be postmarked no later than Oct. 16.

This year's ASDA (Americans Stamp Dealers' Association) Postage Stamp Show, to be held Nov. 17-19 in New York, will be a special treat for first-day cover collectors.

The show will feature first-day sales of three new issues. They will be a new U.S. 5-cent regular postage stamp, a 5-cent United Nations commemorative showing a motif from a stained glass window by Marc Chagall, and a special U.N. art presentation sheet of six 5-cent stamps that combine to show the entire Chagall window.

The Israeli Ministry of Posts has announced it has released a set of 12 envelopes with official post office cancellations from occupied territories.

According to word from the Israel Philatelic Agency in New York, the envelopes have cancellations from the following cities—Jerusalem, Jericho, Gaza, Bethlehem, Hebron, Ramallah, Nablus, Jenin, Tul Karm, Rafiah, Kahn Yunis and Deir el Balah.

Each of the 12 envelopes is affixed with a 15-agonal definitive stamp, the official seal of the Ministry of Posts, and the cancellation. The cancellations have the names of the cities inscribed in Hebrew, English and Arabic. All, except the Jerusalem cancellation, include the word "ZAHAL"—the Hebrew name of the Israel Defense Forces.

This unusual set of envelopes is available at your local stamp dealer or you can write directly to the Israel Philatelic Agency in America, 116 W. 32nd St., New York, N.Y. 10001.

Australia will issue a 4-cent postage stamp to mark the fifth World Congress of Gynecology and Obstetrics, scheduled to be held at Sydney University. Alan Hulme, Australian postmaster general, said the stamp is also being issued in recognition of the special importance of gynecology and obstetrics in modern medicine.

Lebanon has issued a new set of stamps featuring ancient ruins in that country. The 5 piastres stamp shows the ruins of the Roman settlement at Beit-Mery. The 7½ p depicts the ruined palace at Anjar; the 10 p illustrates water falls at ancient Djezzine.

Crusader Castle at Sidon is the subject of the 15 p stamp. The 20 p pictures the Roman amphitheater at Byblos; the 30 p features ruins at Baalbek. The 50 p has the palace at Beit-ed-Dine, the 60 p bears a view of the area at Nahr-el-Kalb, and the 75 p shows the mosque at Tripoli.

COLLEGE-BOUND STUDENTS HONORED AT ASHLAND CHURCH

ASHLAND—A potluck fellowship dinner was held Sunday in honor of Debbie Merritt, Dorothy Hoagland, and Calvin Forman, who will enter the Lincoln Bible College this fall. All three will be freshmen this term, and all are members of the local Church of Christ.

Fifty-seven were in attendance at the dinner. Prayer was given by Rev. James Cook, and after the dinner Rev. Cook made a few remarks. The presentation of gifts to each was made by Mrs. Libby Jones, and John Babbs gave the closing prayer.

Young people in charge of the evening service at the church were: Dorothy Hoagland, Debbie Merritt and Calvin Forman, who gave the sermon, after which the youth of the church sang.

Terry Bloomfield and Virginia Lee Bierman of this city, accompanied by Pam Edgar of Yazoo City, Miss., have returned home from attending Expo '67 in Montreal, Canada. On returning home they toured the New England states and Washington, D.C.

Paul Anderson recently escaped serious injuries when he fell through a truck bed on which he was standing. Paul's right leg was severely bruised and cut and several fingers on his right hand were injured.

Major and Mrs. J. W. Fitzsimmons and three children who have been visiting here at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fitzsimmons, for ten days, have returned to their home in Walden, N.Y.

Pups Always Available At Jacksonville Shelter

MASONS HONOR J. CHESTER COLTON—J. Chester Colton (l) of Jacksonville, 50-year member of the Woodson Lodge #1011 of AF & AM receives his 50-year certificate of membership presented to him by Myron K. Lingle, Most Worshipful Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, AF & AM of Illinois at largely attended ceremonies held Tuesday evening in Woodson. Colton was also presented with a 50-year jewel pin from his lodge at the ceremonies. The presentations followed a dinner, in honor of Mr. Colton, and a reception at the Woodson lodge. Members of the Murryville Masonic lodge also presented the honored guest a gift.

Last month's response to a JOURNAL-COURIER article concerning dogs 'up for adoption' at the Jacksonville Animal Shelter emptied the pens within a matter of hours.

Phones at the Jacksonville Police Department, and of Dog Officer Louis Howell were reportedly 'rung off the hook' by those offering homes for the 12 animals then up for adoption. Few interested persons have come forward since this time.

Readers are reminded that persons residing either in or outside Jacksonville may claim a dog any day, Monday through Friday, from 9 to 9:30 a.m. at the Animal Shelter. Available dogs may be observed at any time.

No Cost
There is no cost for obtaining a dog at the shelter, other than the small expense of a rabies shot for the animal. Prospective owners must promise to have this undertaken before animals are released to their custody.

A city ordinance requires that any dog apprehended by the dog officer must be held 72 hours for the owner to retrieve his pet.

After this three-day period, anyone may claim the dog. Dogs are kept a minimum of 10 days to two weeks, unless signs of infectious disease are detected.

The Animal Shelter is located on the north side of East Oak St., at the intersection of Hackett Ave.

Garrett Rites Conducted Here

Funeral services for H. Frank Garrett were conducted at the Reavy Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Tuesday with Monsignor Michael O. Driscoll officiating.

Serving as pallbearers were Frank Clancy, Ed Thompson, Joe Fortado, Alden Pires, Russell Lahey and Herbert Forrester.

Burial was in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

CONSERVATION TOUR, AUG. 31 IN MT. STERLING

MT. STERLING—The Brown County Agriculture Extension and Soil Conservation District Board is sponsoring a conservation tour for ministers, bankers, businessmen, and the County Board of Supervisors. The tour will be on Thursday, Aug. 31, and will start at the Extension office in Mt. Sterling at 1:15 p.m.

This tour will be held on the Warren Anderson farm and the Leon Roberts farm. The main topic of the afternoon will be "Minimum Tillage Used On Corn."

Daniels Reunion
The Daniels family reunion will be held Sunday, Sept. 3, at the August Livestock showgrounds. Mr. and Mrs. Junior Daniels of Mt. Sterling are in charge of the reunion, which is to begin at noon.

Each family is to bring food, table service, and card tables.

Rambler Party
The annual Rambler party will be held at 7 p.m. Friday, Sept. 1, at the Brown County High School gym. Students will receive their 1967 Ramblers.

RULE PLAINS GIRL DEATH ACCIDENT

A Morgan county coroner's jury Tuesday night ruled that the death of a two-year-old Pleasant Plains girl, who was fatally injured August 23, was accidental.

Coroner John B. Martin presided over the inquest, called to determine the cause of death of Peggy Sue Miner, 2, of route one, Pleasant Plains.

Martin explained that the girl was apparently killed instantly when a stock truck, driven by the child's mother, accidentally backed over the small youngster.

The accident occurred at the NFO stockyards in Scott county near the junction of U.S. 36-54 and Ill. 100 about 8:30 p.m. that day.

Admits Chicago Dumped Sewage Into Waterways

CHICAGO (AP) — A former trustee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago asserted Tuesday that the sanitary district has been dumping billions of gallons of raw sewage and sludge into the waterways by failing to use available treatment facilities.

Walter S. Baltis, the former trustee, said in a statement read at a hearing of the Illinois Water Resources Commission:

"In recent years up to 20 billion gallons of raw sewage yearly deliberately were dumped into the Chicago River by closing off the outlet to the South-west treatment plant at Stickney. I charge that every single gallon of that raw sewage could have been treated with existing equipment."

"Getting away with that type of pollution of our waterways has now encouraged the sanitary district, at its main treatment plant, without any justification and against all principles of sanitary engineering, to intentionally and willfully cut down on fertilizer production by dumping a total of 1,193 tons of undigested sludge into the waterways in one day — equivalent to more than 1 billion gallons of raw sewage. . . Baltis said.

"Production of fertilizer has dropped from 650 tons per day to 375 tons per day, a staggering waste of plant and treatment facilities that were able to provide the best treatment known today," Baltis declared.

"Now what was once the top treatment facility in the world at Stickney — and known as 'one of the seven modern engineering wonders of the United States' — can now be really called the 'greatest polluter per capita of our waterways in the State of Illinois,'" he charged.

Representatives of 33 Chicago area industries reported at the hearing on steps they have taken to reduce water pollution.

In an earlier talk before the commission Tuesday, Vinton Bacon, general superintendent of the sanitary district, outlined a 10-year, $1.1 billion construction program designed to clean up Chicago area waterways.

Mayor Richard J. Daley told the commission Lake Michigan is facing the same pollution fate of other Great Lakes despite efforts to prevent it.

Rep. Carl L. Klein, R-Chicago, commission chairman, said his group is satisfied Illinois ranks in the forefront of states fighting water pollution.

The 22 Americans sent by President Johnson to observe the campaign arrived in Saigon and plans were announced to send most of them immediately into the countryside. Some are going into the northern area where the Communist efforts are strongest, but strong security escorts were arranged to protect them.

U.S. headquarters reported that better weather enabled U.S. pilots to strike deep into North Vietnam Tuesday, again hitting the two main rail lines that connect Hanoi with Red China. The deepest penetration was the rail yard at Kep, about 40 miles below the Red Chinese border.

Returning pilots reported from 10 to 15 boxcars blown up in the northeast rail line and shattered wrecks of other boxcars strewn across several yards hit by previous raids.

A Navy strike 15 miles south-west of Hanoi hit a Soviet-built ground-to-air missile poised for firing. The pilot reported the missile exploded in a great ball of orange flames.

Other pilots raked rail, road and water traffic from Hanoi south to the 17th parallel.

An ammunition convoy was blasted by Air Force pilots northwest of Dong Hoi. Pilots reported the seven trucks erupted into 50 explosions and some 100 fires from ammunition blowing up in all directions.

In South Vietnam, two U.S. Army helicopter gunships were shot down near Saigon, and the U.S. Command said three crewmen were wounded.

Hospital Notes

Phillip Burnett, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Burnett of 446 South Main is a surgical patient at Passavant hospital.

Mrs. Edith Harding of Murfreesboro is a surgical patient at Holy Cross hospital.

FORD SAYS SURTAX

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., said today President Johnson's surtax bill "can't pass the House at the present time."

Ford, the House minority leader, told a news conference the administration has failed to justify a $7.5 billion boost in taxes at this time.

He said the increase can't be justified on the ground that 45,000 additional U.S. troops are going to be sent to Vietnam.

Card Of Thanks

I wish to thank the doctors, Sisters and nurses of Holy Cross Hospital for their kindnesses shown to my husband during his illness and to the family after his death, also to Monsignor Driscoll, Father Spriggs, Father Venteros and Father Cassidy for their prayers and visits. to say if it was still there.

Turner said the Nazis may apply anew for burial in a military cemetery but added the request "will be considered in light of today's events. The Department of the Army will require specific assurance the activities will be in accordance with its regulations." The Pentagon said Tuesday night no new request had been received.

The lovely sunny day in this old town in Virginia's rolling countryside—where Lee mounted his Gettysburg campaign and hundreds of Yankees and Rebels fell in battle—was packed with funerals.

—The funeral was nearly over before its scheduled start. A hurrying Southern Railway freight, its whistle blaring, tore past just as the hearse crossed the tracks into the cemetery parking area.

—Turner arrived from the Pentagon by helicopter, nimble vaulted over a fence and strode martially to the cemetery headquarters. Later, he talked calmly with newsmen as the Nazis held their ground. Suddenly the air seemed filled with Army helicopters. "I guess we may have some soldiers," he said in mock surprise.

Soon the peaceful streets of Culpeper bore Army buses carrying MPs from a nearby post. Some 40 or 50 soldiers blocked the little road leading to the grave that lay open under a tent, disguised by artificial grass.

—A uniformed "storm trooper" leaped to the roof of the hearse, much to the chagrin of its driver, Arlington undertaker Mac "Digger" Morris. The Nazi shouted, "Forward or death," bounded across the hood on heavy boots and charged single-handed into a waiting, almost bored-looking cluster of MPs. The soldiers hailed him and two other zealots away and said they would be charged locally with disturbing the peace.

—Gen. Turner casually returned the salute of an Army private first class. Moments later, he learned Pfc. James Dewitt was wearing a black arm band of mourning and had come to pay his respects "to my real commander in chief."

Soon the MPs arrested Dewitt for allegedly being AWOL from Ft. Gordon, Ga.

—An angry young woman in white, who described herself as an ex-member of the party, hurled epithets at Turner. She called the quiet Oklahoma Protestant, in turn, a Communist, a Jew and a "nigger-lover."

Turner smiled politely from under his trim moustache and lighted his cigar.

PROPOSE SCHOOL FOR

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A school for correction of monumental errors is proposed by the Secretariat of National Heritage. It complained that while about 100 monument restorers are tackling some of the estimated 120,000 Mexican monuments dating from pre-Spanish through colonial times, they have no plan of action, no criteria and are harassed by high costs, duplications of effort and other troubles.

Men entering the church were especially pleased by their greeting from Sandy Padilla. "I'm a kisser," she laughingly explained as she put on a fresh coat of lipstick. "No—I'm really a student at New York University."

As each man and woman approached, she said, "I have something for you"—and planted a big kiss on their cheek.

Mrs. Tore Fryhle of Bergenfield, N.J., wife of a minister was disappointed. "You don't have any men?" she asked Sandy, after watching the girl give her husband a kiss. Sandy replied—by kissing her cheek and sending her on.

UAW

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, will enter talks at the target company Friday.

Here are highlights of the companies' offers:

—An immediate 13-cent-an-hour wage hike.

—Improving the workers wage in 1968 and 1969 at the rate of 2.8 per cent of his previous hourly wage.

—A guaranteed minimum cost-of-living increase of two cents an hour for GM and Ford workers in the second contract year, and four cents an hour in the third year. Chrysler offered a minimum guarantee of four cents for both years. In addition, a five-cent "float" in current C-O-L payments would be carried over.

—A pay hike for skilled tradesmen above the general increase, to be worked out in negotiations.

The companies estimate that their offer would boost wage benefits alone by 33 to 51 cents an hour.

The current average hourly straight-time pay of an auto worker, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, is $3.41.

Including wages and fringe benefits the average worker receives about $4.70 an hour.

The companies' offer was estimated unofficially as a 5.25 per cent increase over the current provisions, although neither the union nor the management will confirm this.

The industry offers made no mention of equal pay for Canadian and American workers or of a guaranteed annual income, both demanded by the UAW.

Viet Vote

the registered voters are from the countryside.

The low city registration will reduce the vote for the civilian candidates.

Voters say the overriding election issue is peace, an end to the war that has split Vietnam asunder and grown into greater intensity with each day. "There is only one problem in Vietnam," said an appliance store owner in Hue, "and that is the war."

"I am for the man who will try to achieve peace," said a Roman Catholic priest in Da Nang, "and it must come very soon for our society is disintegrating. We need schools and we need teachers. The young people are not good. They are rebelling. They are very wild."

"The first job of government must be to end the war," said a Saigon housewife with two sons in the army. "I want a new president, not the present leader. I don't know which one yet."

"Only the military leaders will fight the Viet Cong," said a sergeant in the coastal town of Hoi An. "The civilian candidates talk about peace but they don't say how we can achieve it. Thieu and Ky are determined to win against the enemy, but they need time to get results."

Thieu

Artillery roaring in the background and jets from nearby Tan Son Nhut airbase sometimes drowned out Thieu and civilian candidates as they spoke to the soldiers in the biggest political rally so far.

Thieu told the troops: "We are ready to negotiate. The problem is whether North Vietnam will accept. It is up to them."

He told newsmen later that if elected, "I will talk to North Vietnam first. If I get a favorable response, then I will talk to the Americans and may ask for more than one week."

Observers in Saigon, however, think it unlikely that the United States would go along with even a one-week pause in air strikes unless Hanoi indicated it would reciprocate.

The delegation of 22 Americans named by President Johnson to observe the elections arrived in Vietnam today.

Lodge, two-time ambassador to South Vietnam and now a roving envoy for Johnson, is accompanying the group as guide and adviser.

Business Mirror

By PHIL THOMAS

AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — On Wall Street, "fill or kill" is not a threat made by a robber to a bank teller.

A "bear" is not a big, hairy beast that climbs trees in search of honey, and a "bull" is not a grouchy animal with long, pointy horns that likes to chase a matador around the bull ring.

The speech used by the men who work in the sprawling financial district at the lower end of Manhattan, loosely labeled "Wall Street", may sound like a foreign language to an outsider. Some of the phrases from the jargon of the financial world have crept into the common language, but many remain obscure or ill-defined to those not immediately associated with the scene.

"The language spoken in America's investment world may sound like a strange tongue to the newcomer," says the New York Stock Exchange in its booklet, "The Language of Investing."

"It is often vivid, colorful, flavored with the idioms of many eras. Some expressions have filtered down from the day when brokers traded securities under a buttonwood tree in the open air."

The buttonwood tree under which securities were sold in 1792 has been replaced by 18 trading posts on the floor of the exchange, familiarly known as "The Big Board."

It is at these posts that the bears, those who believe the market will decline, and the bulls, those who believe the market will rise, have their buy or sell orders carried out.

Being "short" on the market has nothing to do with a person's height. A short person often is a bear who, believing a stock will decline, sells it although he does not own any. His broker has borrowed the stock to make the sale, and the short person eventually must buy the same amount of stock as was borrowed for return to the lender.

The man who sells short hopes the stock will drop in price and that he will be able to buy enough at a lower price to meet his commitment and still make a profit.

A fill or kill order actually means what it says. It is a "market" or "limited price" order that is to be executed in its entirety as soon as it is represented in the "Trading Crowd," which means as soon as it reaches the proper trading post on the exchange floor. If it is not executed immediately it is treated as canceled.

The origin of much of Wall Street's jargon becomes obvious once the meaning is understood.

With others, such as bull and bear, even though the meaning is clear the origin remains obscure. There are several theories as to why these words are used.

One holds that bear may come from the old proverb of selling a bear's skin before the bear is caught, and that bull may come from the habit those powerful animals have of tossing things up into the air with their horns.

Marchers

kill" hurled insults, bottles and rocks at the 200 marchers protected by a thin line of policemen.

Police said 45 persons were arrested.

Twenty-two persons were injured, 11 of them policemen. A similar demonstration along the same route Monday night resulted in 16 arrests and two injuries.

Less than an hour after the marchers groped their way through a protective screen of tear gas toward a viaduct leading out of the South Side Tuesday night, they were caught up in a new crisis.

It developed as their bus pulled up outside council headquarters in the inner core, the Negro section that was the scene of rioting July 30.

Police and Negro witnesses gave conflicting versions of what happened.

Sgt. Frank Miller said the council members began protesting what they called lack of police protection as they began moving out of the bus. Bottles smashed the windshield of a police car, he said, and shots rang out from a vacant building alongside council headquarters.

Miller said police fired tear gas to disperse the Negroes and fired shotguns into the air.

During the melee, he said, an automobile drove by and a firebomb was thrown through the window of the council headquarters building.

Firemen were kept out of the area for 15 minutes while police sought a sniper. None was found.

Negroes, who clustered on the street corner near the burning building, denied there was any sniper or melee and insisted police did all the shooting.

National Guard Leaders Hire Advertising Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) —

National Guard officers have hired a Madison Avenue advertising agency in a $50,000 effort to blot out criticism of the Guard's performance in recent big city riots.

The unusual advertising campaign underscores the concern with which many Guard officers view the post-riot criticism.

"We're in a bind—we're on the defensive," says Maj. Gen. James F. Cantwell, president of the 45,000-member National Guard Association of the United States.

Other Guard officers link the critical comments to the Guard's long-standing feud with the Pentagon over reorganization of the reserves. And some say the situation illustrates the hostility that exists between reserve and active forces.

Cantwell said his association is sponsoring the advertising campaign because "we believe we've got to place before the public an honest reminder of what the Guard has done, and has always done."

RULE TAX LISTS MUST BE COMPLETE LAND DESCRIPTIONS

that the Ogle County treasurer must provide newspapers that publish lists of tax assessments complete descriptions of the properties assessed.

Judge James E. Bales of Dixon ruled in favor of the publishers and editors of eight newspapers circulating in the county in their suit against Charles E. Homes, county treasurer and also supervisor of assessments.

The publishers and editors contended that the lists supplied them for printing lacked enough information to allow a taxpayer to compare his assessment with that of another property owner. The judge directed that full descriptions be given.

The suit was brought by Paul Behan, co-owner of the Republican Reporter of Oregon; Ronald Smith, Rochelle, editor of the Tilton Publications, the Rochelle Leader and the Mount Morris Index; Lee G. Piper, Durand, vice president of Associated Publishers, which has papers in Leaf River, Stillman Valley and Byron, and Ronald Barnes, Polo, co-owner of the Tri-County Press and the Forreston Journal.

ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR CONDOMINIUMS FOR POOR PEOPLE

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of organizations announced plans Tuesday to buy and restore 11 slum buildings and turn them into "poor people's condominiums."

Condominiums, in which the units are owned individually, have gained widespread popularity among persons in the middle economic bracket and the well-to-do.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., one of the leaders in the move, said it is the first plan of its kind in the nation. He said it will "give the ghetto dweller a stake in his community" and is a first step in the direction of removing "intolerable conditions that cause riots."

The announcement was made in a glass littered area between two apartment buildings at Fillmore Street and Independence Boulevard while Negroes leaned over back porch rails, looking and listening.

The sponsors are the Kate Maremont Foundation, the Lawndale Union to End Slums and the Chicago Freedom Movement, with which Dr. King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference is affiliated.

The foundation has an option to buy 11 buildings in a Negro slum on the West Side.

Victor de Grazia, executive vice president of the foundation, said about $1,200,000 will be available to buy and rehabilitate the buildings. They contain a total of 156 living units.

PICKING OUT 'HOT' MISSILE

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — The Department of Defense is looking for ways to detect and isolate live missiles approaching amid hordes of dummy missiles.

Positive identification of a ballistic missile should be based on the environment "hot" missiles create in flight, according to the department's Advanced Research Projects Agency.

Sylvania Electric Products Inc. has designed and built a long-range tracking and information radar that will participate in the Department of Defense duties. The equipment will locate and follow incoming missiles.

The group's 30-member executive committee authorized the action two days after a presidential panel investigating the riots indirectly criticized the Guard on three points—the adequacy of its riot control training, the number of Negro Guardsmen and the competency of Guard officers.

Then last week, Lt. Gen. John L. Throckmorton, commander of federal troops during the Detroit riot, told a House subcommittee "I was confronted with a group of trigger-happy, nervous soldiers in the National Guard."

Two days later, the first in a series of full-page advertisements appeared in the New York Times and the Washington Post, purporting to give "the true facts concerning the Guard."

Tuesday, another advertisement devoted to the Guard's role in riot control appeared in the Times.

"We pray our cities will not be battlefields," the full-page ad said. "But if it does happen, if havoc is repeated in our streets, the National Guard, as always, will respond.

"Order will be maintained. The people will be protected. The laws of the nation will be upheld."

"Rest assured."

Still other ads will be published in New York and Washington newspapers next week, an association spokesman said, and some may appear in other newspapers around the country.

The association retained the firm of Durand Sapan, Inc., 555 Madison Ave., New York, to prepare and place the ads.

Sources pegged the campaign cost "in the neighborhood of $50,000"—about one-tenth the association's annual budget.

The tax-exempt association receives no government funds, the spokesman said, and is supported solely by annual dues ranging from $7.50 for lieutenants to $20 for generals. The group's membership list is almost identical with the Army and Air National Guard's officer rolls.

FORMER LUTHERAN CHURCH HEAD DIES

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Dr. Armin G. Weng, 69, president of the Illinois Synod, United Lutheran Church, from 1937 to 1948, died Tuesday in Rockford Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Weng retired in the spring as president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Maywood and had been living in Park Ridge. The United Lutheran Church, as a result of mergers, now is part of the Lutheran Church in America.

The clergyman was born in Oshkosh, Wis., and from 1930 to 1937 was pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Elgin. Survivors include a son, the Rev. Armin G. Weng Jr. of Oregon, Ill., and a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Upper Montclair, N.J.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. Thursday in St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Park Ridge with burial in Town of Maine Cemetery.

PREDICTS WATER PRICES WILL GO UP WITH DEMAND

CHICAGO (AP) — A consulting ground-water geologist predicted Tuesday the law of supply and demand soon will force water prices sharply upward.

"In the past, direct charges for water have usually been nominal, with the true cost being hidden in various forms of taxes, special assessments and fees," said James J. Geraghty of Port Washington, N.Y.

"However, future increases in water prices in this country and elsewhere will be rather large," he added.

Speaking at the international water quality symposium, he said the setting of artificially low water prices and making up the balance through hidden taxes is a "social welfare" concept.

"While there can be little argument with welfare concepts involving expensive medical care or pensions, there still is a serious

Joint Installation For Legion, Auxiliary

A joint installation of new officers for Jacksonville American Legion Post 279 and its Auxiliary Unit 279, was held August 15th at the Legion Home.

The installation ceremonies were preceded by a bountiful potluck dinner served at 6:30 p.m. to Legionnaires, Auxiliary Members, their families and guests. Tables were elaborately decorated in Legion and Auxiliary colors of blue and gold and the speaker's table was adorned with a large floral centerpiece, which was later awarded to Mrs. Hattie Palsgrove, mother of out-going Commander, Joe Palsgrove. The invocation before dinner was given by Past Commander J. Chester Colton.

At the conclusion of dinner the meeting was opened by Commander Joe Palsgrove, the colors posted by Sergeant at Arms Charles W. Quigg, and the invocation given by Chaplain Glenn E. Skinner.

Commander Palsgrove spoke briefly and introduced 20th District Commander, Dean Frazier from Rodhouse, and the speaker for the evening and installing officer, Eloyd "Skip" Kiesling, Field Representative for The American Legion, Department of Illinois.

Mr. Kiesling, after informative remarks regarding the Legion's program of "Law and Order" installed the officers.

Legion Officers
The new officers for the Legion are Commander, Vern W. Mueller; senior vice commander, David K. Wild; junior vice commander, Charles W. Quigg; sergeant-at-arms, Edward Killam; chaplain, Glenn E. Skinner; adjutant, Edward F. Brennan; finance officer, Harold Myers. New members of the Board of Directors are Lynn B. Northrop and Lester Abbott.

Honor Post Commander
After the ceremonies Field Representative Kiesling presented to immediate Past Commander Palsgrove, a Past Commander's pin on behalf of the local Legion Post. Adjutant, Brennan presented to Past Commander Palsgrove a scrap book.

J. Chester Colton, Past Commander of Jacksonville Post 279, spoke briefly in tribute to Rev. Father Frank J. Lawler, who died recently. Mr. Colton commented that Father Lawler was admired and held in high esteem by all who knew him and was a true and loyal friend to many citizens of Jacksonville.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of Father Lawler, who had served the local Post as Chaplain for many years, and where he still maintained his Legion Membership. He had also served the American Legion, Department of Illinois as State Chaplain and later served as National Chaplain.

the only member of Jacksonville American Legion Post elected to a National Office.

Newly installed Commander Mueller thanked installing officer, Kiesling and asked the support of the new Officers as well as the entire Legion membership to assist in the program for progress of the Legion during the coming year.

He then turned the gavel over to Auxiliary President, Mrs. Margaret Quigg who introduced the installing officer for the Auxiliary, Mrs. Audrey Livengood, Past President of Unit 279 and presently serving the American Legion, Department of Illinois as a Hospital Chairman. Mrs. Livengood was assisted by Mrs. Claude A. Mansfield, Jr. as Chaplain and Mrs. Howard F. Brennan as Sergeant-at-Arms.

Auxiliary Officers
Mrs. Livengood installed the following Auxiliary officers: Mrs. Margaret Quigg, president; Mrs. Opal Keating, first vice president; Mrs. Norma Kern, second vice president; treasurer, Mrs. Shirley Owdon; secretary, Mrs. Mildred Smith; historian, Mrs. Jean Bowen; chaplain, Mrs. Jean Bailey; assistant-sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Flossie Wild; and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Estaleen Vorrall.

Mrs. Livengood, on behalf of the Auxiliary Unit, presented to Mrs. Quigg a Past President's Pin.

Mrs. Quigg expressed her gratitude to the installing officers and presented tokens of appreciation to them, and asked the support of all Auxiliary members in the coming year.

Mrs. Edward F. Brennan, who has been appointed Finance Chairman of the Auxiliary, for the coming year, with Mrs. K.

Lyle Davis, as Co-Chairman, announced that the Auxiliary's first project would be a rummage sale Friday, September 29, behind the jail. Mrs. Brennan stated that contributions from Auxiliary members, Legionnaires, families and friends would be greatly appreciated. Anyone wishing contributions to be picked up, should call 245-6928 or 245-7567. Contributions may be brought to the Rummage Sale Room on Thursday evening after 6:30 p.m.

The next Legion meeting will be held on Tuesday, September 5th commencing at 8 o'clock p.m.

The Auxiliary will next meet Wednesday, September 6th at 7:30 p.m. Both meetings will be held at the Legion Home.

MRS. FLOWERS IS HONORED AT SHOWER IN GREENE

GREENFIELD — Mrs. Harl Flowers was honored at a pink and blue shower Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Ken Plogger. Prizes were won by Mrs. Bob Camden and Miss Ruth Ann Melvin. Other hostesses were Mrs. Gary Bridgewater, Misses Nancy Elmore, Kathy Melvin and Norma Murphy. Refreshments of sandwiches and punch were served. Mrs. Flowers is the former Ruth Ann Butcher.

Awarded Certificate
A certificate signed by Gov. Otto Kerner and Robert G. Newman, chairman of the Illinois Sesquicentennial Commission, has been awarded to Mrs. Sanford Hutchison for a design entered in the stamp art contest sponsored by the Illinois Sesquicentennial Commission.

WRINKLES

by Marie Davant

NEW YORK:—Chemical science has found a white substance made with quicksilver that works wonders on wrinkled, roughened face and hands. Use it one time and it is entirely possible you will see improvement next morning. In a few days dry-skin wrinkles start to vanish. Many of the small ones around the eyes and mouth have already disappeared. But that is not all! "Old-Age" (weathered) brown spots on hands and arms—brown "age" darkness on surface of face and neck fades away! Rich oils lubricate pores so blackheads can slip out without squeezing. Surface pimples and blemishes and scars, outwardly caused, dry up or become less noticeable! But don't take my word for it. Make a 6-day test without risking one penny. Just get a jar of Peacock's Imperial Creme at your favorite department or drug store. Use this thrilling cream for 6 days—satisfaction guaranteed by The Mitchum Company or return unused portion to retailer for full refund. No questions asked. Peacock's Imperial Creme can work wonders for wrinkles, lines, brown spots and other weathered blemishes. You may obtain Imperial Creme for $2.00 at:

Fade Them Out!

*Weathered brown spots on the surface of your hands and face tell the world you're getting old—perhaps before you really are. Fade them away with new ESOTERICA, that medicated cream that breaks up masses of pigment on the skin, helps make hands look white and young again. Equally effective on the face, neck and arms. Not a cover-up. Acts in the skin—not on it. Fragrant, greaseless base for softening, lubricating skin as it clears up those blemishes. If you have these age-revealing brown spots, blotches, or if you want clearer, lighter skin, use ESOTERICA. At your favorite drug and toiletry counter. $2.00.

ESOTERICA SOAP softens skin, helps clear surface blemishes. Combats dryness.

acts around, under and through the pores

In one week a disturbed skin can be prettier, clearer and finer-looking by using a special pore cream. If your skin is disturbed—in color, texture, surface imperfections or coarse pores, it needs active help. And that is what you get with Deep Deep Pore Cream. 1. The cleaningest, fluffiest of creams. 2. After you tissue it off, countless invisible droplets remain—and penetrate—in, around, under and through the pores for finer skin texture. (Even blackheads and "surface" pimples outwardly caused yield.) 3. Clears the skin with positive action to lighten and clear. Virtually renews the surface skin! Deep Deep Pore Cream brings new hope of a clear, fresh complexion from the trustworthy 54-year-old Mitchum laboratory. In fact, you get visible improvement in ten days or return unused portion to retailer for full refund. Even blackheads, pimples, coarse pores.

BRILES JUST WANTS TO PITCH

Whether he starts his own work or finishes a job for someone else, St. Louis Cardinal pitcher Nelson Briles really doesn't care. All he is concerned about is pitching, period.

Having proven he can do both this year, the 24-year-old righthander seems destined for a long run with the Cardinals as one of the bright young pitchers in the National League.

There for a time, 'Nellie' began to wonder. Tried in both relief and starting roles last year, the one-time Santa Clara College pitcher was tagged with a 4-15 record. The fact that the Cardinals could not beg, borrow or steal a run for him in most of those decisions did little to restore Briles' confidence in his second season of professional baseball.

THIS YEAR has been a different story for the Cardinals and for Briles. One of the top two relief hurlers for the league-leaders during the first half of the season, Briles was shoved into the role of a regular starter when ace Bob Gibson suffered a broken bone in his leg at a time when the NL race was air-tight.

Jumping at the chance, Briles has since proven that he can start as well as relieve. He has started eight games and compiled a brilliant 5-2 mark as an opener, and owns a sterling 2.91 earned run average for the season on his overall 9-5 mark. His ERA is first among starters on the Cardinal staff, led by Joe Hoerner's 2.15.

The personable Briles couldn't be happier about the situation but says he would be willing to return to the bullpen if called upon.

QUIZZED between games of the Monday night doubleheader with the Mets, Briles stated, "I like to start of course, but I didn't mind working out of the bullpen before Gibson was hurt. I was always a starter until last year."

Did Briles have to change his pitching style? "Not a bit. I personally don't think there is any difference in the style of a starter or a reliever. Some people talk about pacing yourself as a starter, but you can't do that. You have to throw your best stuff and as hard as you can all the time. There is no such thing as taking it easy at the start, or when you have a big lead."

DESPITE WHAT some observers think when they see a right handed batter bail out on one of Briles' sharp-breaking curves, Nellie thinks of himself as a fastball hurler. "I feel the fastball is my best pitch, although, since I have been starting, the curve has been working quite well. I still have to come back to the fast one when I get in trouble. Regardless of a pitcher's stuff, he still has to be able to get the ball where he wants it on certain hitters. Control is necessary no matter how well a pitcher can throw."

What does the rest of the season hold for Briles? Being a player not wishing to make Red Schoendienst's decisions for him, Briles won't come out and say it, but you have an idea what he's thinking. "I want to keep starting," Briles commented to the question, with a wide grin, as Schoendienst strolled by. "However, I would be willing to go to the bullpen if needed there. I just want to pitch."

Cardinal fans definitely hope he gets to pitch for a long time, whether he starts or relieves.

PLAY BALL: In keeping with the tremendous interest in baseball in this area this year, Elliott State Bank of Jacksonville has put on exhibit a baseball display that should strike the fancy of baseball fans. Included in the display, in conjunction with a current promotion campaign, are 'The Evolution of the Glove', 'A Baseball is Born', an exhibit of all major league baseball caps and features on several all-time greats.

Wynn Home Run Edges Cubs, 5-3

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Wynn's three-run homer capped a five-run, eighth inning rally that gave the Houston Astros a 5-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

Cub rookie Joe Niekro had a five-hit shutout, going into the eighth before he departed after Ron Brand, Julio Gotay and Joe Morgan singled.

Chuck Hartenstein took over for Niekro and gave up a run-scoring single to Doug Rader before Wynn slammed his 31st homer with two out.

Don Wilson, 10-9, who departed for a pinch hitter in the eighth, got the win. Hartenstein, 6-4, was the loser.

Boyer's 'Slam' Lifts Atlanta To 7-3 Victory

ATLANTA (AP) — Cleve Boyer's two-out grand slam homer capped a five-run rally in the eighth inning and gave the Atlanta Braves a 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh Tuesday night.

Boyer, whose two-base throwing error in the top of the inning had helped Pittsburgh take a 3-2 lead, connected with the bases loaded after the Braves tied it on Tito Francona's run scoring single.

It was Boyer's 23rd homer and second grand slam—of the year.

Robinson Double Carries Orioles Past Twins, 4-3

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Brooks Robinson lashed a two-out, bases-loaded double in the sixth inning for Baltimore's first hit off Dave Boswell, and the blow carried the Orioles to a 4-3 victory over Minnesota Tuesday night.

Robinson's hit, followed three walks issued by Boswell, cleared the bases.

The defeat knocked the Twins out of the American League lead as Boston jumped past Minnesota into first.

Boswell and reliever Ron Kline allowed Baltimore only three hits but issued nine walks between them. Kline walked in an Oriole insurance run after replacing Boswell with the bases full in the eighth.

Jim Hardin posted his fourth victory in five decisions for the Orioles with ninth inning help from Moe Drabowsky.

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP) — Although the Boston Patriots have had winning records in five of the American Football League's seven seasons, many people think of them more as oldsters than as winners.

Coach Mike Holovak scoffs at such a label.

"Age is a relative thing," he said. "Who's to say 30 is old for a football player? Anyway we have only four starters who are over 30—Babe Parilli, Gino Cappelletti, Tom Addison and Bob Dee.

"Parilli never had a better year than last year. You're supposed to take Cappelletti out and rest him because he's old. But he keeps scoring points."

The Patriots will be going at defending champion Buffalo again this year, and Parilli, Cappelletti, Addison and Dee will be in the line-up again.

So will a younger fellow, fullback Jim Nance, who was the league's most valuable player last season.

Nance carried the ball a record 299 times and gained a record 1,458 yards. He also made more than a small impression as a blocker.

Nance, of course, is the bulk of Boston's ground attack. The other running back is Larry Garrison, who has withstood challenges from Bob Cappelletti, a second-year man, and Joe Bellino, who has been switched to halfback from flanker.

Parilli's receivers are flanker Cappelletti, who has won four consecutive league scoring titles, split end Art Graham, who set a team pass reception mark with 51 catches last year, and tight end Jim Whalen.

The rest of the offensive line has all-star Jon Morris at center, Len St. Jean and Charlie Long at guards and Don Oakes and Tom Neville at tackles.

The Patriots have a lot of experience on defense, but they also have a pair of good-looking rookies at cornerbacks. They are John Charles, Boston's No. 1 draft choice this year, and Leroy Mitchell, No. 11.

The front four, on the other hand, have a combined total of 28 years' pro experience. Ends Dee and Larry Eishenauer are starting their tenth and seventh years while tackles Houston Antwine and Jim Hunt are beginning their seventh and eighth seasons.

The Patriots thought their linebacking was set with all-star Nick Bounie, Addison and Doug Satcher, but Bounie's back has developed kidney trouble and is a doubtful starter for Boston's league opener against Denver Sunday.

Just how long Boston might have to do without their middle linebacker isn't known. But even if it's only one game, his absence will hurt. Rookies Ed Toner or Ed Hippert likely will place in his place.

Behind Record

Miss Gustavson, a tall, 17-year-old, surpassed the official record of 4:38.0, accomplished by Miss Randall, but was well behind the pending record of 4:29.0, turned in by Debby Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., on Aug. 18.

The Americans cracked three listed world records on Monday night in the opening of the aquatic meet in the magnificent Olympic Pool.

In addition to the six gold medals Tuesday, the Americans collected three silvers for second, one bronze for third, and topped the qualifiers in two other events.

In basketball, the heavily favored Americans trounced Thailand 120-46 for a 3-0 record. Brazil, Japan, and South Korea also have 3-0 records. Jo Jo White of Kansas U. led the Yanks with 18 points.

CUT FROM SQUAD

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League cut defensive lineman Bill Wilkinson and split end Tony King from their squad Tuesday.

The rest of the offensive line has all-star Jon Morris at center, Len St. Jean and Charlie Long at guards and Don Oakes and Tom Neville at tackles.

The Patriots have a lot of experience on defense, but they also have a pair of good-looking rookies at cornerbacks. They are John Charles, Boston's No. 1 draft choice this year, and Leroy Mitchell, No. 11.

The front four, on the other hand, have a combined total of 28 years' pro experience. Ends Dee and Larry Eishenauer are starting their tenth and seventh years while tackles Houston Antwine and Jim Hunt are beginning their seventh and eighth seasons.

The Patriots thought their linebacking was set with all-star Nick Bounie, Addison and Doug Satcher, but Bounie's back has developed kidney trouble and is a doubtful starter for Boston's league opener against Denver Sunday.

Just how long Boston might have to do without their middle linebacker isn't known. But even if it's only one game, his absence will hurt. Rookies Ed Toner or Ed Hippert likely will place in his place.

Behind Record

Miss Gustavson, a tall, 17-year-old, surpassed the official record of 4:38.0, accomplished by Miss Randall, but was well behind the pending record of 4:29.0, turned in by Debby Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., on Aug. 18.

The Americans cracked three listed world records on Monday night in the opening of the aquatic meet in the magnificent Olympic Pool.

In addition to the six gold medals Tuesday, the Americans collected three silvers for second, one bronze for third, and topped the qualifiers in two other events.

In basketball, the heavily favored Americans trounced Thailand 120-46 for a 3-0 record. Brazil, Japan, and South Korea also have 3-0 records. Jo Jo White of Kansas U. led the Yanks with 18 points.

CUT FROM SQUAD

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League cut defensive lineman Bill Wilkinson and split end Tony King from their squad Tuesday.

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — Jack Concannon, tabbed top quarterback candidate for the Chicago Bears, probably will miss Friday night's Armed Forces Benefit game here against the St. Louis Cardinals, because of ailing throwing arm.

Concannon had been named a starter against the Cardinals after the Bears absorbed their third successive preseason defeat in a 66-24 trimming by the Kansas City Chiefs Wednesday night.

Concannon's arm, bothering him for several weeks, showed no improvement in Tuesday's drill and coach George Halas announced veteran Ruddy Bush and Larry Rakestraw would share quarterbacking against the Cardinals.

Swoboda, Koonce Topple Cards, 2-0

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ron Swoboda blasted a lead-off home run in the fifth inning and Jerry Grote singled in another run, leading the New York Mets past St. Louis 2-0 Tuesday night on the five-hit pitching of Cal Koonce.

Swoboda's 10th homer, only the second hit off 14-game winner Dick Hughes, pinned the rookie right-hander with his fifth loss.

Tommy Davis led off the sixth with a single and Ed Kranepool sacrificed. After a wild pitch and a walk, Grote singled Davis home.

REDLEGS ENTERED IN EDINBURG MEET

The Jacksonville Redlegs will play Hannibal, Mo. in the first round of the 18th annual Edinburg Labor Day Softball Tournament, at 9 p.m. Friday. A total of 14 teams are entered in the four-day, single elimination tournament.

The first round schedule has Canfield Construction of Springfield meeting Pittsburgh Glass of Decatur Thursday at 9:00; Taylorville meeting Loami at 7:30; and Jacksonville taking on Hannibal at 9:00 Thursday; Springfield Air Guard facing Springfield Quality Furniture at 3:00; Cowden facing Egan's Tavern of Springfield at 7:30; and Cerro Gordo taking on Edinburg at 9:00 in three Saturday tilts.

Games will be played at 1:00, 3:00, 7:30 and 9:00 Saturday. Mark's Mortuary of Alton, the defending champs, is not entered this year.

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Neal Petties, a 27-year-old split end who started his fourth season with the Baltimore Colts, and rookie tight end Ron Kirkland were placed on waivers Tuesday.

TOP TICKET RECORD

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Season ticket sales for the Philadelphia Eagles have topped 51,000 for a club record, the National Football League team announced today. Last year's sales record was 50,047.

Iowa, with only 59 players, has the smallest football squad in the Big Ten this year.

Bosman Pitches 5-Hit Shutout At Chisox, 3-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dick Bosman, recalled Saturday from Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League, pitched a five-hit Tuesday night as the Washington Senators jolted the Chicago White Sox 3-0.

The Senators scored all of their runs in the fourth inning off Tommy John on one line single, three soft hits and two walks. John has not won a game since July 8.

Tim Cullen opened the third by beating out a hit to third and Ken McMullen walked. Frank Howard grounded a single under Ron Hansen's glove at short, scoring Cullen, and Cap Peterson lined a single to left, scoring McMullen.

After Person broke up a potential double play on Hank Allen's grounder by making second safely after a rundown, Paul Cassanova was walked, loading the bases. Mike Epstein fanned but Ed Brinkman singled off John's glove, scoring Howard.

Dazzling Speed 7-5 Favorite In Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Victory in the Hambletonian has eluded two of harness racing's greatest driver-trainers, Stanley Dancer and Bill Houghton, but either easily could step into the winner's circle Wednesday.

Dancer, 40, will be making his eighth try in the premier stake for 3-year-old trotters with highly-favored Dazzling Speed, a strawberry roan with 9 triumphs in 16 starts this year.

The Dazzler, unraced as a 2-year-old, will be an unofficial 7-5 favorite in the betless $122,650 Hambletonian when it is raced for the 42nd time.

Houghton, 43, all-time leading American winning driver with more than 2,700 victories, will be bidding for his first Hambletonian success in 10 attempts with powerful Keystone Pride, a four-time winner in 11 outings this season. Keystone is listed a 6-1 choice.

Dazzling Speed has drawn the No. 1 post in the field of nine colts and three fillies while Keystone Pride will start out in the 10th slot.

The former record of 2:00 was set by Scott Frost in 1954 and matched by Noble Victory in 1964, both at Lexington, Ky.

Nevele Pride's record here was only 1-5th of a second off the all-time trotting mark for two-year-olds. Impish, a filly, trotted 1:58 3-5 at Lexington in 1961.

Once Great Hunting Area Near Carlyle Now Fishing Paradise

CARLYLE, Ill. (AP) — A few years back, hunters tramped through timberland along the Kaskaskia River in quest of coon, squirrel and quail.

They still journey to the area in Southern Illinois just north of Carlyle, but now they carry rods and reels rather than guns.

What was once a hunters' paradise is on its way to becoming the largest manmade lake in Illinois — the $41 million Carlyle Reservoir.

Tourism experts forecast nearly four million persons will be visiting the lake annually by 1970 to boat, swim, water ski and fish.

They also forecast that Carlyle and neighboring communities — Centralia, Greenville, Salem, Sandoval and Vandalia — will share the $15 million to $20 million that tourists will spend in the area each year.

Water impounded by a new dam north of Carlyle already has inundated 11,000 acres of land. Thousands of visitors flocked to the lake for recreation on and in the water.

1969 Completion Date
By 1969, when the Shelbyville Reservoir is completed about 40 miles to the northeast, the Carlyle Reservoir will be increased to 26,000 acres.

Although the Carlyle project is a bonanza for area residents, it is not without its critics.

Barney Heiligenstein of Carlyle, Clinton County state's attorney, contends the government destroyed too many acres of timber in clearing land for the lake.

"We lost squirrel, coon and quail hunting," Heiligenstein said. "I'm a member of a substantial minority who would rather have 62,000 acres of timber than a lake."

Mayor Leo Davis of Carlyle disagreed.
"I think some people are a little selfish," Davis said. "There were about 500 persons who were taking advantage of the hunting. Now millions will be able to enjoy the lake."

Up In Population
Unlike many smaller communities, Carlyle has grown rather than lost population in recent years. A special 1964 census showed an increase of 190 persons over the town's 2,903 population in 1960.

Packers Already In Winning Form

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It was only an exhibition but the Green Bay Packers looked as good as they did last January when they won the National Football League championship as they whipped the Dallas Cowboys 20-3 Monday night.

On this same field—the Cotton Bowl—Green Bay beat Dallas 34-27 for the NFL title. Dallas had everything back, Green Bay didn't have fullback Jim Taylor. But the Cowboys couldn't even score a touchdown Monday night. Not since 1965 had this occurred to the high-powered Dallas offense.

The Packers played a perfect game—no pass interceptions, no fumbles. Their defense was so good crusty old Coach Vince Lombardi said, "I'm real proud of it—when you hold a team like Dallas without a touchdown you've gotta be proud of them."

The crowd of 78,087—the second largest in Dallas football history—also couldn't understand why Zeke Bratkowski was only a backup quarterback.

Kmiec Is Moved To Defensive Backfield Spot

CHAMPAIGN — All Big Ten defensive end Ken Kmiec, Illinois' football co-captain from Chicago (Mt. Carmel), has been moved to defensive halfback for his final season of collegiate competition. The change was one of several announced today by new coach Jim Valek as he awaited opening of practice on Friday.

The other major switches: Junior Carson Brooks, Rochelle, starting fullback at close of 1966 schedule, from defensive guard, where he played in spring, to defensive end.

Quarterback Bob Bess, sophomore from Bloomington, to defensive halfback.

Junior Herschel Johnson, Belleville, reserve linebacker as a sophomore and defensive tackle last spring, to offensive guard.

The moves basically resulted from necessity to beef up the defensive secondary after loss of only two experienced candidates — Mick Smith who signed a professional baseball contract and Ralph Waldron who is scholastically ineligible — and temporary sidelining of leading newcomer, Charles Bareither, Urbana, who underwent an emergency appendectomy a week ago.

Valek hopes to regain Bareither prior to the season's second contest, the home opener against Pittsburgh Sept. 30.

Also announced were staff assignments for 1967.

J. C. Caroline has been appointed freshman coach, succeeding Jim Brown, who moved to the varsity to handle defensive ends and linebacks.

Other duties are: Lou Baker, defensive backs; John Easterbrook, offensive backs and running attack; Jack Hart, offensive ends and passing attack; Ellis Rainsberger, offensive line; Gene Stauber, defensive line.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The million dollars and two hours of air time to plug a division of CBS, namely the Yankees. NBC has scheduled for that time slot a repeat telecast of "Damn Yankees," the musical opus based on Douglass Wallop's book, which assumes the omnipotence of baseball players dressed in Yankee uniforms.

Wallop, the author, has his own dilemma. The story line of "Damn Yankees" shows the Washington Senators, led by a soul-selling outfielder named Joe Hardy, challenging the reign of the Yankees and then nailing them out on the final day of the season. He wrote it back in 1953, when the Senators were last and the Yankees first, and Wallop was a long-suffering fan in the outskirts of Washington. The same Senators have since become the Minnesota Twins and flit with first place while the same Yankees strive desperately to not finish last.

Coincidentally, there is also another Washington Senator team arisen which generally keeps the Yankees company near the bottom of the standings. So whom does Wallop root for, Washington or Minnesota?

"I stick with Minnesota," he resolved, "since I was friendly with the Griffith family (which owns the team)."

Meanwhile, the real Yankees, in a spirit of magnanimity, at most of their games on WPIX, a local New York outlet competing directly with WCBS, the parent company's flagship. They turn up sporadically on NBC's Game of the Week and let Joe Garagiola, their play-by-play announcer, be a regular on NBC's Today Show. Some of the Yankee players, like Joe Pepitone and Mickey Mantle, have popped up over at ABC on the Wide World of Sports.

The only place the Yankees seem to be locked out is at CBS. In Los Angeles, the Dodgers are locked out of TV action through the purposeful insistence of owner Walter O'Malley. The players, however, keep their faces in front of the cameras by hiring out as TV actors.

So one day they had Don Drysdale playing himself. The script called for Drysdale to strike out the batter. The actor at bat, responding to the challenge, accidentally stroked one into the stands. On the next pitch, Drysdale side-armed a fast ball at the thespian's head.

As the guy dug himself, purplish white, out of the dirt, Drysdale ad libbed, "Sorry. Just force of habit."

Ron Perranoski, Drysdale's pitching mate, was recruited for a Western series starring Chuck Connors, an erstwhile Dodger first baseman. He took riding lessons, then reported back to his team.

"How'd you do?" he was asked. "I played myself," Perranoski replied. "—a lefthanded Polish cowboy."

Williams Happy With Tight Race

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'd like nothing better than for the pennant race to come down to those last two games at Fenway Park," Boston manager Dick Williams said Monday.

DICK WILLIAMS

The rookie skipper of the Red Sox, who currently are locked in a battle for the American League lead with Minnesota, Chicago and Detroit, was referring to the final series against the Twins, Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

The schedule from here on in appears to favor the Twins and Red Sox.

"I'm pretty satisfied with the way things went in Chicago," said Williams in reference to the five-game weekend series with the White Sox. Boston won three games.

"But we can't let down against any of the other teams," he added. The Red Sox opened a four-game series against the ninth-place Yankees at New York Monday night.

Williams, a leading candidate for AL Manager of the Year honors, is pleased with Elston Howard, the veteran catcher obtained earlier this month from the Yanks.

"Not only has he helped our pitching staff, but he's been a big help to Mike Ryan, our other catcher," Williams pointed out. "Ryan is usually a quiet fellow, but he seems to have learned from Howard how to take charge out there."

From New York, the Red Sox return home for a four-game series with Chicago. They have six games left with the White Sox, two each against the Twins and Tigers, eight against the Yanks, seven with Baltimore, three with Washington and two each with Cleveland and Kansas City.

Minnesota has three each with the White Sox and Tigers, two against the Red Sox, nine with Baltimore, four apiece with Cleveland and Kansas City and three each against New York, California and Washington.

The White Sox face Boston and Detroit four times each, Minnesota three times and play seven games with Cleveland, six with Washington, four with California, three with New York, two with Kansas City and one with Baltimore.

The Tigers' remaining games include four with Chicago, three with Minnesota, two with Boston, eight with California, six with Washington, five with Kansas City, three with New York and two against Baltimore.

Amateur Golfers Begin Battle

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The cream of the continent's amateur golfers, 150 strong, begin trudging over the foothills of the Cheyenne Mountains Wednesday in their search for the 1967 amateur champion of the United States.

Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ontario, is the defending champion and the only non-U.S. citizen in the field that will play 18-hole rounds each for the next four days on the 6,906-yard, remodeled West Broadmoor course where par is 35-70.

The distance was cut 55 yards Tuesday when U.S. Golf Association officials decided to play from the front tees on the No. 10 hole. It still is a 520-yard monster with the green 130-feet higher up the mountainside than the tee. The fairway is bordered by a forest of pines on each side.

Cowan, who is trying to break the jinx that a champion rarely repeats, will have to contend with what many say is the strongest group of amateurs in many years, perhaps since the end of World War II.

The field here was winnowed out of an original entry list of 1,818 by 43 qualifying tournaments. The entire U.S. Walker Cup team, which defeated Great Britain earlier in the spring, came through unscathed.

It is from this blend of youth and experience that Cowan likely will get his strongest opposition.

The team includes William C. Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., and Ed Tutwiler, another veteran, an amateur from Indianapolis. Campbell bested Tutwiler in the final round of the 1964 tourney, the last time it was decided on a match play basis.

Others on the team include Ron Cerrudo, the 22-year-old from San Rafael, Calif., who is the locker room favorite; Bob Murphy of Lakeland, Fla., the 1965 king; Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, Tex., and Bob Dickson of Muskogee, Okla., who won the 1967 British amateur title in June.

Tiger Coaches Assume Duties

GREENFIELD — Thomas C. Holden, head football coach of Greenfield senior high school will also be assistant basketball coach and instructor for Physical Education and Driver Education.

He holds an A.B. degree from Illinois State University and during the past year has completed the requirements for a Masters Degree from Central Michigan University with a major in P. E. and a minor in Business Education. While attending Central Michigan, Holden served on the coaching staff as freshman football coach.

Dee L. Foster, formerly of Loda, joins the senior high school faculty as Head Basketball Coach and will teach classes in Senior High Social Studies and P. E. He will also serve as assistant football and track coach. Mr. Foster is a graduate of Eureka College and has done additional work at the University of Illinois and Wisconsin. He is a former faculty member of the Buckley-Loda School District. Mr. and Mrs. Foster and their three children have recently moved to Prairie Street in Greenfield. Mrs. Foster will serve as a substitute teacher in the Greenfield High School.

Tennessee has back its star kicker, Gary Wright of Heflin, Ala. Wright made 28 of 29 points in 1966 and booted four field goals in seven attempts.

Defensive back Rich Zimmer, a 197-pound sophomore at Tennessee, hails from Massapequa, N.Y.

Thirteen golfers shot 149 for the first two rounds of the U.S. Open. They missed qualifying for the last 36 holes by one stroke.

Green Bay Packers

GENERAL COMMENT — The Packers aren't as omnipotent as some people might suggest. Just don't lose a Horning-Taylor combo and shrug it off. But Vince Lombardi has hit a good formula for turning over talent while winning. And they do have proper motivation—could be, first in modern history to win three NFL titles in row.

OFFENSE

PASSING—Chuck out Units, Jurgensen, rest. Most effective quarterback in football today is Bart Starr, a field extension of Lombardi in thinking, execution. Amazing thing is they don't hesitate to sub Zeke Bratkowski for him. Rating—A

DEFENSE

LINE—Like offensive counterparts, Willie Davis, Henry Jordan getting on in age, too. But less worry because young guys like Jim Weatherwax, Bob Brown are ready to fill in. Incumbent regulars Ron Kostelnik, Lionel Aldridge are steady, able—and young. The old guys, though, mean most to the pass rush. Rating—B

LINEBACKERS — Most terrifying threesome in game: Dave Robinson on left, LeRoy Cafferly on right, Ray Nitschke in middle. They're biggest trio in game, as well as fast, and they like to hit. Really the key to the Packers defense. Tommy Crutcher, rookie Jim Flanagan are the spares. Rating—A

SECONDARY—Terrific mobility. Herb Adderley, Bob Jeter on corners have ideal swiftness and size. Herb's perennial all-pro. So's Willie Wood at right safety, surest tackler in game. Tom Brown, the other safety, is just now getting the feel of football again (he started pro career in baseball). Rating—A SUMMARY—A guy could defy the odds and pick against the Packers, but he'd be doing it just to be different. With Bart Starr heading on offense that's leaning more to the pass and the usual airtight defense, the Packers don't show any real chinks of weakness. PREDICTION—First in Central division.

RECEIVING—Knee injury which decked Bob Long, maybe for season, took away Lombardi's flexibility in using three wide receivers for certain situations. Not really hurting, though, with Boyd Dowler on flank, Carroll Dale split and Marv Fleming tight, with old Max McGee for clutch spots. Fleming's improved; Dale's unappreciated. Rating—B+

RUNNING—How many teams lose best fullback in game, best clutch halfback and not mean? Physically, don't expect to miss Horning, Taylor. Because Donnie Anderson, Jim Grabowski expected to justify huge cash outlay in '66. And Elijah Pitts had already beaten out Horning as halfback regular. Ben Wilson, ex-Ram helps, too. Rating—B

LINE—Nagging worry that the old guys—Forrest Gregg, Bob Skoronski, Jerry Kramer, Fuzzy Thurston—can retain zip. Fuzzy's already been side-tracked for husky, young Gale Gillingham. Lombardi must have been thinking that way, too, for he drafted Bob Hyland No. 1. Kid can play center, guard, tackle. Rating—B+

KICKING—Irony that Don Chandler, who started life as punter, is now placekicker because Anderson has shown he can take over the booting.

DEFENSE

Dallas Cowboys

DON PERKINS

GENERAL COMMENT — Dallasites absorbed with thoughts of a winning dynasty would be better off concentrating on winning this year. It's no cinch. The Cowboys did come of age last fall conquering the East, but you'd be amazed what a couple of key injuries could do to them. They were virtually hurt-free in '66.

PASSING — Better keep Don Meredith wrapped in cellophane. He's still only one who can keep multiple pieces of coach Tom Landry's offense stuck together. Rating—B+

RECEIVING — Problem is Bob Hayes — not for lack of talent. He's most dangerous man in football beyond scrimmage line. But they've started to triple team him. That means they need comparable threat at flanker. Pete Gent's too slow. So search has turned to ex-Viking Lance Rentzel. Tight end's O.K. with Pettis Norman, swing man Frank Clarke. Rating—B+

RUNNING — Good thing they coaxed Don Perkins out of retirement. Gets more per ounce than meat salesman with heavy thumb. Dan Reeves a revelation, too. But how long can they deliver maximum with minimum speed, size? Walt Garrison, Les Shy remain promising—that's all. Rating—B

LINE — Has brilliant star in right tackle Ralph Neely. Hoping Tony Liscio can match him by moving from guard to other tackle. That pushes John Noland into starting role at guard, Jim Boeke to bench. Leon Donohue, center Dave Manders fill rest of line competently. Rating—B+

KICKING — Publicized kicking caravan was bust. Uncovered only unknown named Mac Percival. Chances are Danny Villanueva, now on hospital list, will still do placements, punting.

DEFENSE
LINE — Jethro Pugh was about ready to displace departed Rocky Calvin at tackle anyway. But now there's nobody around for depth. George Andrie, Willie Townes loom big at ends, literally; tackle Bob Lilly, maybe best in NFL is anchor at tackle. But they desperately need another body or two for insurance. Rating—B+

LINEBACKERS — Lack of depth here, too. Harold Hays over holdover starting crew of Chuck Howley (all-pro), Dave Edwards at corners, Leroy Jordan in middle — reputed fastest unit in NFL. Just hope they're all ironmen. There's an ex-Canadian player, Bill Quinter, who's dark horse. Rating—B+

SECONDARY — Teams have habit of picking on right corner Warren Livingston. He could get competition for job from young Mike Johnson, rookie Phil Clark. Otherwise set with All-Pro Cornell Green at other corner, Mel Renfro and Mike Gaechter at safeties. Mel, best athlete of bunch, should have hang of playing free safety now. Rating—B

SUMMARY — Cowboys, first expansion team in sports to win any kind of title, could find it rougher than last year. Redskins have been tough for them. More important, they've no proven defensive depth and need help at flanker and 100 per cent duty from Meredith. PREDICTION — First in Capitol division.

Atom Research No Longer Has The Role Of Bad Guy

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-five years ago the Army started buying up a sleepy, worn-out farming area of East Tennessee known as Oak Ridge. They wanted it to make bad-guy atoms for bombs.

But now the emphasis is on good-guy atoms. This year, for the first time, more than half of the Atomic Energy Commission's $2.4 billion budget will be spent on peaceful uses of atoms. That's double the peaceful budget of only a few years ago.

Good-guy atoms already have brought wide-ranging benefits to mankind in medicine, maritime propulsion and navigation, space technology, the electric power and other industries—and even in such far-apart areas as crime detection and the fine arts. It even helps assure that you get full measure in a beer can.

And the experts say they hold promise of truly sensational gains for the future, in a range from ocean-bottom power plants to interplanetary ferries. There's even promise of a "junkless society," thanks to scrap-devouring nuclear furnaces.

Oak Ridge long has been the world's foremost producer of radioactive isotopes—by-products of nuclear reactors used to generate power and make weapons.

These ray-emitting isotopes can be used to generate heat for smaller power sources; to act like X-rays or radium in treating cancer and other diseases; and to course through human bodies, providing tell-tale signals, much like a firefly giving off light, for diagnosing certain diseases. In this "tracer" method, isotopes are also giving great aid to agriculture and industry.

The first nuclear power plant turned on the juice a decade ago at Shippingport, Pa. Now the AEC forecasts:

By 1970 nuclear power plants will serve the electrical needs of nearly 7 million Americans—and 10 years later, nearly 70 million. The latter means about 17 million homes, figuring an average family of four.

Plutonium, fearsome as a bomb and missile ingredient, will fuel an "atomic battery," a new type of long-lasting electronic aid for the human heart. An entire artificial heart, with plutonium driving the pump, is also under development.

Even cattle benefit from the good-guy atoms. Scientists developed an ingenious radiation-sterilization technique to rid the southeast of the screw-worm fly by making male flies sterile. That pest once cost the area up to $25 million annually in livestock losses.

"Package power," transportable nuclear reactors, are in use in such remote places as Antarctica, the Greenland ice-cap, and even on a sea-going barge.

"Atomic batteries," are employed to power unmanned weather stations, like one in the Antarctic; a lighthouse in Chesapeake Bay, and foghorns like one far out in the Gulf of Mexico.

Hundreds of miles above the earth, atomic batteries in orbiting satellites send navigational signals to mariners on the ocean.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the AEC, and his top officials tick off items like these to buttress their theme that the good-guy atom has really become a big-leaguer.

Further items from the AEC: —Radioactive isotopes are "making a substantial contribution to the world's industry—one amounting to the savings of hundreds of millions of dollars annually."

Seaborg refers, for example, to the use of isotopes in industry to measure the thickness and density of sheet-steel, aluminum, tire cords, textiles, plastics and other materials—and to measure the heights and levels of materials within containers. He says smilingly, "but meaning every word of it: 'They (the isotopes) control the amount of glue on postage stamps, the amount of sugar in applesauce, the amount of fat in baby-food, and the amount of beverage in a beer can. They can regulate the tobacco content of a cigarette, the mineral content of an ore slurry, or the meat content of noodle soup.'"

More than 100 different isotopes are available for medical research. More than 10,000 doctors and medical research organizations in the United States alone are employing them routinely in diagnosing and treating many diseases and disorders.

The peaceful atom has even become an art detective. Certain isotopes—used in a process called X-ray fluorescence—enable nondestructive analysis of paintings and other art objects, so that phonies can be detected.

Then there's the "atomic yearstick"—a method of determining the age of even ancient materials by measuring the strength of radio-active substances still in them.

Seaborg says tough problems still remain to be conquered in the quest to harness the titanic hydrogen-bomb "fusion" reaction for use in generating electricity. But he says progress is being made and continued effort is justified for this reason: Success would mean opening up "an energy resource equivalent to 500 Pacific Oceans filled with hi-grade petroleum."

Dinner Honors Arthur Wilsons Of Murrayville

MURRAYVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilson and Jim entertained a group of relatives at dinner Sunday in celebration of the 30th wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson.

Mrs. William Gibson, a daughter, was to assist the hosts but was hospitalized after giving birth to a son, William Christopher Gibson.

Guests were Pfc. William Gibson of Fort Hood, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schall, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hess of rural Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Abernathy and Jill of Concord, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer and Kenny of Manton, Mo. and the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson.

The honored couple received a lovely gift from relatives and many cards from friends.

Many Negroes Hungry But 'Not Starving'

By JAMES BONNEY
JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Many Negroes in the Mississippi Delta are undernourished, but "not starving," a team of physicians drafted by Gov. Paul B. Johnson said in a report on file with a U.S. Senate subcommittee on employment and poverty.

The report was an answer to charges of widespread starvation leveled by several congressmen and a team of six out-of-state physicians operating under a Ford Foundation grant. The report, not released in Mississippi, was obtained by The Associated Press through Washington sources.

The five Mississippi doctors reporting for the governor were selected from a list of specialists at the University of Mississippi State Medical Association. Their backgrounds include extensive medical missionary and government work. The Mississippi team visited Washington, Bolivar, Humphreys and Le-flore counties.

"It has been recently alleged that in Mississippi people are starving to death," the physicians' report said. "In all places visited it was specifically requested that we be shown the worst conditions known to exist in the area and the most destitute persons living there."

"Some of these same places and persons had recently been visited by individuals making the charge that people were starving. In no case could any condition approaching death from starvation be found."

"It is true, however, that in many localities sanitary conditions are below the acceptable minimum and there are varying degrees of undernutrition, malnutrition and anemia as there are in other parts of the nation."

The physicians recommended a long-range, well-financed study to determine how many persons in Mississippi live in poverty.

Arenzville

ARENZVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Adam Beets and Brenda attended an open house celebrating the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Craddock on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 20, at the Craddock home in Jacksonville.

The Arenzville Homemakers Extension Unit held its August dinner meeting at the Mallard Inn, Beardstown, on August 17.

Present were Mrs. Myron Beard, Mrs. Kenneth Roegge, Mrs. Ray Schmitzer, Mrs. Tim Huey, Mrs. Dick Bartholomew, Mrs. Dick Lippert, Mrs. Jack Schone, Mrs. Melvin Schone, Mrs. Harold Kruse, Mrs. L. J. Wessler and Mrs. Dean Stock.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Kleinschmidt.

Miss Charlene Urlaub was a dinner guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. George Bischoff Tuesday evening. Miss Urlaub, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Urlaub of Garrettsville, Iowa, is a student nurse currently taking part of her training at Jacksonville State Hospital.

Todd Bischoff returned Tuesday from a vacation trip to Michigan, Wisconsin, and a portion of Canada on the north shore of Lake Superior. Todd and three friends, Mike Horstman, John Christian, and Roger Chastain, all of the Springfield area, made the trip after a summer on the staff of Illinek Boy Scout Camp.

Dirksen Doubts Success

Expect LBJ To Seek U.N. Debate On Viet

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A bloc of former senatorial delegates to the United Nations is confident President Johnson will try to initiate U.N. debate on Vietnam early in September.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who led a show of support in the Senate Monday for such a move, said in an interview the next move is up to the President.

"The President is interested in bringing the matter before the Security Council and we were trying to demonstrate that he would have public backing if he undertakes to get action," he said. "The decision, of course, is up to the President. I am confident he would like to have the matter brought before the United Nations." He indicated no move would come before the South Vietnamese elections Sept. 3, however.

One by one, former members of American delegations to the U.N. got up to say the best route for breaking the stalemate on peace negotiations is through the international organization.

If such a move failed because of a Soviet veto, Mansfield said, it would expose the Soviets as "the artful dodgers they are" in calling for an end to the conflict but blocking an American proposal to reconvene the Geneva Conference which worked out Vietnam settlements years ago.

Almost all of the former U.N. delegates who spoke are critical of President Johnson's war policies. Besides Mansfield, they include Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.; George D. Aiken, R-Vt.; John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.; Frank Carlson, R-Kan.; Frank Church, D-Idaho; Gordon L. Allott, R-Colo.; John O. Pastore, D-R.I.; Wayne Morse, D-Ore.; and John J. Sparkman, D-Ala.

They are joined in their appeal for U.N. action by Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., who have not served on U.N. delegations.

Sparkman repeated his support of Johnson's war policies in declaring the time is here for action in the U.N.

However, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who has backed Johnson's basic

Sirloin Kabobs for Labor Day Cookout

SIRLOIN KABOBS—ultimate in eating.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

For the big holiday cookout select sirloin of beef, tender and rich. Then try these two "high hat" kabobs. A juicy way to say farewell to the good old summertime.

Sirloin Kabobs, Onion Marinade

2 to 3 pounds beef sirloin steak cut into 1½-inch cubes

½ cup salad oil
¼ cup lemon juice
¾ teaspoon leaf oregano
1 green onion, finely chopped
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon coarsely ground pepper

12 medium-sized mushrooms
12 stuffed green olives
4 12-inch metal skewers

Combine salad oil, lemon juice, oregano, onion, salt and pepper. Pour marinade over meat. Cover and refrigerate 8 to 12 hours. Remove meat from marinade, reserving marinade. Thread meat, alternately with mushrooms and olives, on skewers, allowing 4 steak cubes, 3 mushrooms and 3 olives for each kabob. Place meat on grill 3 to 4 inches from heat. Brush with reserved marinade during cooking. Broil 15 to 20 minutes, turning frequently, until browned. Four servings.

1 beef sirloin steak, cut 1½-inches thick
½ cup salad oil
¼ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon brown sugar
¼ teaspoon onion powder
12 sweet red or green pepper squares, cut into 1½-inch pieces

Remove bone and cut steak into sixteen 1½-inch cubes. Combine oil, lemon juice, salt, paprika, dry mustard, sugar and onion powder. Add marinade to beef cubes. Four servings.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The new look of Warner Brothers—Seven Arts was previewed this week. Audience reaction: favorable. The Hollywood press corps has long been accustomed to grouping out to Burbank for functions presided over by Jack L. Warner, sometimes called "The Last Tycoon."

The Warner speeches were one of the hazards of covering the film scene, since he enjoyed rambling far afield in search of wisecracks, most of them non sequiturs.

Most of his fellow pioneers died in office or were pushed out of the business; Warner chose recently to relinquish his 44-year hold on the studio. The aggressive new firm of Seven Arts bought his share of Warner Brothers and assumed charge of the company last June 14.

It was an entirely different scene when the new studio management was introduced on Stage 1 at the Burbank lot this week. The man in charge is Kenneth Hyman, a lean, handsome 38, New York-born, but with a trace of British tones from his service in England as a film producer.

Hyman's is not exactly an Horatio Alger story, since his father happens to be Eliot Hyman, president of Seven Arts. But the younger Hyman also has a good film-making record, having been connected with at least two smash hits, "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?" and "The Dirty Dozen."

His brief remarks were notable for their modesty: "I'm not a public speaker... I'll try to be precise and accurate... I don't want to bore you..." Unlike his predecessor as studio boss, Hyman didn't attempt a single joke.

While he said nothing revolutionary, his comments offered a good picture of the New Economics of the movie business. Among them:

"We aim to extend total dignity and respect to the picture maker. We want to make Warner Brothers—Seven Arts an attractive place for film creators to come with their projects. We'll do our best to prove to them that we will treat a picture as an entity in itself, not as part of a season's product..."

"The studio will function largely as a service organization, offering the best facilities possible for the making of films. Also, we will emphasize that every film must be sold well and advertised well. That's part of the whole picture..."

"We must be in the television business, in order to take care of the studio overhead. But our first concern is the cinema image (Jack Warner calling it that) and we'll concentrate on that in the beginning, and then get the TV operation going. We must take first things first..."

"We're very interested in giving young people a chance to develop their talent in films, especially in writing. It doesn't take genius to buy a hit play or a best-selling novel. Those pictures are necessary, but we also need to develop original stories. We have a big writer's building, and it isn't as busy as it should be."

The Weeders' Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

WHEN it comes to your lawn, autumn is the beginning, not the end, of the gardening season. There are many advantages to starting a new lawn or reviving the old one at that time of year.

Kentucky bluegrasses, Oregon Fine Fescues and Highland Bentgrass make excellent use of the warm days and crisp nights. And the changing season upsets crabgrass and other hot-weather plants. This means that new seeds will have less competition from weeds for at least a few months.

Soil is easier to work in the fall than in the spring, when the ground is cold and clumpy.

Build A New Lawn

From Dr. Robert W. Schery, director of The Lawn Institute at Marysville, Ohio, comes this advice about lawn building:

Cultivate the seedbed at least two inches deep, mixing in a good supply of fertilizer. Leave the surface loose and crumbly. Then spread seed of fine-texture grasses (they are so identified on the label).

The tiny seeds fit nicely into the soil crevices, and often no raking or rolling is necessary. For a mulch, cover the surface with seedless straw, excelsior, peat moss or special mats sold at the garden store.

Water well to hasten sprouting, after which light sprayings are in order when the soil surface dries. This should assure a good stand of grass within a few weeks.

If you use organic mulches, leave them in place to decay on the lawn. But lift fiber glass mats.

To Improve Lawns

There is nothing complicated about improving existing lawns. Spread good, quality seed, about half the rate you would for a new lawn. This helps fill in skimpy areas or spots where weeds might gain control.

Kentucky bluegrass or Highland Bentgrass should be fertilized at least once or twice in autumn. Shade-grown Fine Fescues should be given enough fertilizer for both grass and trees.

Frost does not bother bluegrasses, fescues and bentgrasses. They seem to grow best when the days are sunny and the nights cold. When the weather is crisp, the food that the bluegrass leaf makes by day is husbanded in sturdy roots and plump spreading stems, Dr. Schery says.

No extra mowing is involved in the fall because the grass stays short at that time of year.

To assure moisture for your house-plants during your week-end travels, make a sturdy tray of heavy-duty aluminum, lined with wet peat moss or sphagnum moss. Plunge the plants into the moss. Clay containers will absorb needed moisture from moss through the pot walls.

Megginsons Hold Reunion

Fifty-nine attended the annual Megginson reunion held Sunday, August 27, in the Woodson Christian church basement.

Invocation was given by Cecil Megginson of Eureka, who attended from the greatest distance.

Mrs. Ida Seymour presided during the business meeting. Mrs. Judy Craig read the secretary's and treasurer's reports. A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Phyllis Megginson, Mrs. Beth Jones and Mrs. Alma Irlam, approved new officers as follows: president, Mrs. Alma Irlam; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Leona Thompson.

Two families tied as being the largest family present. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Irlam and five of their eight children were present as were Mr. and Mrs. Ben of Jacksonville. The oldest member present was Cecil Megginson, the youngest was Marsha Jones.

Present were Cecil Megginson of Eureka, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seymour, Mike McGuire, Cindy, Fred, Jim, and Mike of Waverly; Mrs. Charles Harris, Norma Jean, and Joan of Alexander; Mrs. Leona Thompson, Vicky, Chrystal and Julie, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Basham, Mary Jane, Dale, and Sue Ellen, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Irlam, Mary, Larry, Janet, Karen and Carol, all of Murrayville.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Helliwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Craig, Eddie and Jay, of Winchester; Mrs. Velma Osbourne, Kathy, Mike, Ricky, Debbie, and Diana; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Basham of Roodhouse; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Armitage, Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Jones, Jeff, and Marcie, Mrs. Sarajane Basham, Mrs. Lucille Megginson, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Megginson and Tom, all of Jacksonville. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCurley, Mrs. Phyllis Megginson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sooy of Woodson.

Next year's reunion will be held in the Woodson Christian church basement on the 1st Sunday in August with potluck dinner starting at 12:30 p.m.

Luken Reunion At New Berlin

The 41st annual Luken reunion was held Sunday, Aug. 27 in the community room at New Berlin High School with 20 members and two guests present.

In the absence of president Bob Komnick, vice-president Carl Smith presided during the business meeting which followed a basket dinner.

Due to small attendance and apparent lack of interest, it was decided to discontinue the reunion until 1970, when family members will meet on the fourth Sunday of August in the New Berlin High School community room.

The group voted to retain the present officers. They are Bob Komnick of New Berlin, president; Carl Smith, Virginia, vice-president; Dorothy Smith of Virginia, secretary and Marilyn Basse of Loami, treasurer.

One birth, one marriage and four deaths were reported during the past year.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Basse and Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Long, Cheryl, Denise, Darryl and Paula; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Staley, Madeline and Steven of Loami; George Luken, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Torbeck, Loren and Donna of New Berlin and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Virginia. Guests were Anna Halter and Anita Hart.

Camera

By RALPH (Skip) MILLER, AP/SA

Taking a good outdoor portrait should be a snap, right? It is, too, if one remembers the ABC's of outdoor snapshooting. You recall them, don't you? (a) Snuggle up close to your subject; (b) use a plain, uncluttered background; and (c) place the proper light where you want it, when you want it.

Anyone can memorize these rules, of course. The puzzling part seems to be putting them into practice.

"Snuggle Up." No matter whether you're "snuggling up" photographing your own baby or baby elephants, the golden rule is: get close. This produces a snapshot oozing with character, the essence of good portraiture.

How to get close? The answer is not necessarily the obvious one of bringing the camera close-er to the subject, although this is the answer about three times in four—However, some camera lenses won't permit such technique because nothing closer to the lens than five or six feet is in sharp focus.

Do as Grandpa does: put on bi-focals. For a box camera, there is an inexpensive eyeglass-shaped item called "Portrait Attachment." It slips over the lens as effortlessly as a milk bottle cap and performs the miracle of cutting distance in halves or thirds, depending upon the unit purchased.

For cameras with interchangeable lens facility, switching to a longer focal length does the job in a jiffy. The 100-mm lens is about twice as effective for outdoor portraits as the standard 50-mm lens, on cameras using 35mm film. You can use any semi-tele lens (85mm to 135mm).

"Plain Background": This is so easy to use that we wonder why so few snapshooters take advantage of it. The most readily available and often the best is a plain sky. Or a fleecy-cloud sky. Or a lake. Or a sandy beach, with or without shoreline. Or the uncluttered side of a house or other building.

You've tried to use a plain sky, but the clouds didn't "come out" in your picture? The sure way is to slip a simple filter over the camera lens. For black-and-white film, ask your camera shop for a cloud filter; for color film, no filter is needed for color prints, but a polarizing filter will do wonders for color slides.

The way to avoid conflicting elements on the horizon line is to use a simple prop, such as the weather log used by Anso expert Bill Whittaker in the accompanying illustration.

"Proper Light": Anyone can tell whether there is, or isn't, enough light to take a picture. But what about that word "proper?"

That's the key to quality in outdoor portraiture. Suppose, for example, we ask a friend to pose in the sunshine. Are the eyes squinted? Is light falling on only one side of the face, while the other side is in shade? How about those under-nose and under-chin shadows?

Each of these signs is a signal of improper lighting.

What to do about them? Have a third person hold a white fabric or cardboard (even a page of this newspaper will do nicely) along the shadow side of the face. As long as he's close enough to cause the sunshine to "bounce" into the shadow areas, yet not close enough to get the reflector into the picture, you should have no shadow trouble.

Another simple way is to pop a peanut-size flashbulb into the camera's flashgun. There's no need to make any change in lens opening or shutter speed for snapshots taken 8 to 16 feet from the flash. If taken 5 to 7 feet away, drape a single thickness of a man's white handkerchief over the front of the flash reflector; for closeups of 3 to 4 feet, use two thicknesses.

One side of a white, cream or light-gray building can help bounce sunlight into shadow areas; so can a piece of crumpled foil snatched from Mom's kitchen cupboard. For at-home outdoor portraits in sunshine, the beam from a slide projector could serve as "fill" light.

How much light needed depends on what film is in the camera. Film designed as slow (ASA 25 to ASA 50) needs more light than does medium-speed film (ASA 75-150). Logically, fast film (ASA 200-500) requires the least.

The exact amount of exposure (f-stop and shutter speed) can be obtained from your camera's built-in exposure system or from a hand-held electric exposure meter. The instruction sheet included in each roll of cassette film includes an excellent exposure guide, or a purse-size slide-type exposure guide may be purchased for about 25 cents.

Now that you know all the tricks, you're itching to try them, aren't you? So...load your camera and fire away!

The avoidance play does not mean that you avoid playing with someone you don't like. It means to avoid letting the dangerous opponent into the lead.

We don't approve of North's four - spade bid. We like to raise our partner's major suit on most occasions but this time North should have seen that a diamond opening might hurt four spades while the chances were that nothing could hurt him if he played at three no - trump.

Actually, it would take a club lead to beat South at three no - trump but East had bid a diamond and West opened his partner's suit against the spade contract.

Dummy's jack lost to East's queen and East made the good return of a trump. This put matters squarely up to South. He wanted to establish dummy's heart suit in order to discard a couple of his clubs but he also didn't want West in the lead again.

If he simply drew trumps and went after hearts West would be sure to gain the lead with the queen or jack and would undoubtedly lead a club. Of course, South could complain about bad luck with West holding both heart honors but South preferred to make his contract if possible.

Therefore South let the trump ride around to dummy and led the king of diamonds. East covered with the ace and South discarded his four of hearts. After this loser on loser avoidance play it was just a matter of mopping up. East led a second trump. South won in his own hand, played ace and king of hearts, ruffed a heart, entered dummy with the last trump and discarded two of his three clubs on the good hearts.

Americans hold nearly one trillion dollars in life insurance—$984.7 billion at the end of 1966, to use exact figures from the State Farm and Life Insurance Institute. The 1966 total worked out to about $15,900 for each of the nation's estimated 62,124,000 family units, about two year's living expenses based on the average after-taxes income of $8,100 per family. Average family coverage by state, shown on map, ranges from a high of $25,000 in Hawaii to a low of $9,700 in Arkansas.

"From a financial standpoint however, it looks as though the entire country could benefit. The House Banking and Currency Committee reported that each of these rats did $10 annual damage. This yearly $900 - million bill is borne by everybody whether they are bitten or not."

"You're right! We should save this money!"

"I'm glad you have changed your mind. Will you change your vote?"

"No. Why waste $40 million? Let the people do it. How's this for a slogan? Kill your half a rat today!"

Combines Exercise With Household Chore

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer saves me time and gives me added exercise all at once. My sweeper does not do a good job of picking the lint off one of my rugs so I just take my suede shoe brush and go over it. I keep a wastebasket nearby and an old metal file or knife to clean the brush once in awhile and, presto, the rug is clean. I can do a 9x12 rug in less than 10 minutes.—CLARA

DEAR POLLY—Tell Debby Ann to use baking soda and a wet sponge on her table that is marked with nail polish. Use the soda as you would a sink cleaner, rubbing gently with a damp sponge. It worked like a charm for me and did not injure the finish on my tables.—MRS. J. B.

DEAR GIRLS—I tried this red nail polish that had been spilled on a painted surface. It worked wonders on white enamel finish and on old polish marks. I do suggest trying an inconspicuous spot first, as with any spot or stain removal treatment, to see the effect on the furniture finish.—POLLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—After using two virgin Dacron comforters for several years the centers are flat and thin while the corners remain plump and thick. Is there any way to restore these comforters to their original plumpness? —EVA JANE

DEAR POLLY—Recently, during a storm, our electricity was off for several hours and the only light we had was from candles. I did not have more than two candleholders handy and rather than look for others I used empty cellophane tape dispensers which were right at hand. The candles fit perfectly in the center holes and the dispenser parts acted as holders. Next time the power goes off I will not think of looking for regular candleholders. —MRS. R.J.W.

DEAR READERS—I am sorry that we cannot answer the many requests for Nina's diet but we feel a diet should

NEW HABITS, NEW HAIRDOS for Catholic nuns are requiring some additional training for various Orders. A change in style of habit which left their hair exposed required refresher courses in hair styling for Sisters of Sacred Heart Academy in Lisle, Ill. Luckily Sister Mary Josephine was a hairdresser before she entered the Order, and was sent to a nearby beauty school to brush up on fashions which she could pass along to the other nuns.

down by the House of Representatives the first time it was presented. There were some of the President's proposal for a who questioned the wisdom of national war on rats was turned this move.

A friend of mine in Washington said she met with a member and she asked him to explain to her the reasons why the $40 million, two - year rat extermination program was scrapped.

She said to him, "I understand a government rat expert, Dr. Allan W. Donaldson, stated that up to 600 rat bites are reported annually in New York City alone."

"Maybe so, but I speak from personal experience. I have been to New York City three times this year and I have never been bitten by a rat."

"Do you think where you stay might have something to do with this?" she asked. "I mean, one isn't likely to run into a rat at the Waldorf, right?"

"You have a point there," he conceded. "But let us be logical about this. They say lots of kids get bitten by rats. Would you let your children play or sleep in such places? I say place the blame where it belongs — on the parents!"

"But I understand experts in this field point out that control in rat - infested areas is beyond individual families - that action must be taken by city governments, or state or federal agencies."

"Well, Miss, the World Health Organization says there is one rat for every person in the world and in some places, like India, there are three rats to each person. Here in the United States we are supposed to have 90 million rats, or, half as many rats as people. Some people don't know when they are well off. I say if they don't like it here, send them to India and let them see what rats are really like!"

Magic Needle Stitches Pattern Of Wealth For Carpet Maker

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Tired of hearing about men who went from rags to riches?

Listen, then, to the tale of Edward Fields, who has made riches from rugs.

Now one of the world's largest custom carpet manufacturers—his clientele ranges from the Shah of Iran to Mickey Mantle—Fields was launched on his path to fortune by a $500 wedding gift and a fortuneteller's tip.

Eddie has made a rug shaped like a piano for Liberace.

Eddie made the carpet for "Air Force One," the plane in which Lyndon B. Johnson stood when he took his first presidential oath.

Eddie made the huge oval "carpet of the United States in the Diplomatic Room at the White House.

Eddie has also made rugs or tapestries for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, the Vanderbilts, the Astors, Mary Martin, John Steinbeck, Prince Rainier of Monaco and Milton Berle.

In 1935 Eddie was 21 and pocket poor after five years of selling carpets for other firms. Then his brother, handleader Shep Fields, gave him $500 as a wedding present.

"I decided to use it to start my own firm," said Eddie.

How was business? In two syllables it was "lousy." It was still bad in 1946 when Fields went to a night club in Hollywood to forget his troubles for the evening.

"A fortuneteller in the club told me that a man with the initials 'J.B.' would come into my life and change it," he recalled.

Soon after that Fields met an elderly Viennese, Joseph Blumfield, who had invented a hand-held rug-making machine.

Eddie bought the gadget from Blumfield under an arrangement that guaranteed him lifetime royalties and then set about improving it.

That machine, nicknamed "the magic needle," began to stitch a pattern of wealth for Fields.

Eddie now has 250 of the machines, each of which, he says, can turn out as much work in a day as 20 Japanese hand workers. In a year, although he keeps production figures secret, he claims they enable him to manufacture as much yardage as the entire carpeting industry of Persia at its peak.

"I never have patented my magic needles, because it would simply make it that much easier for competitors to steal the secret," he said. "But they are checked out individually to my workmen, and at night I keep them locked in a steel and concrete vault. Only my son and I have keys to the vault."

But no machine by itself could explain Eddie's success. Showmanship runs in his family. Another brother, Freddie Fields, runs a talent agency which handles such entertainment notables as Barbra Streisand, Peter Sellers, Rock Hudson, and Phil Silvers. And Eddie is an outstanding showman himself.

The balding, fastidiously dressed manufacturer moves in fashionable society and top business circles, knows most of his famous customers on a first name basis.

They pay without wincing prices that range from $350 to $20,000 for a carpet. Fields keeps a stock of 100,000 spools of wool, several thousand basic designs, and prides himself that no two of the 10,000 rugs he creates each year are exactly alike.

WITHOUT WHOSE LABOR...

You work hard the long days of life, you with the hands showing the years of your toil. You raise your arms and buildings follow, you swing your hands and mountains fall. Your eyes look across a span of water and soon a bridge follows.

You sweat and it soaks into every part of our nation, for it is the effort you give which makes life easier for your fellow-man. A million jobs done each day testify you are not unnoticed.

Behind a badge or carrying concrete, you are the face of your neighbor or the person down the street. You can be angry or happy; determined or indifferent; curious or content, but you are recognized.

You come in all shapes and sizes with backgrounds as diverse as your imaginations. With it is accomplished the highest expectations of our dreams; without it we only topple and fall to a sorrowful end too quickly felt.

You are the working force, the person whose voice and muscle and mind and heart give to each of us not only the necessities but the luxuries of life. To you we can only say "Thanks!" for all you are and all you shall be throughout our days.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 30 — Born today, you are highly intelligent, scrupulously honest and, because of your extremely high ideals, doomed to considerable disappointment in your lifetime. Such disappointment will never cause you to lose faith in man, however, or create within you a state of depression over world conditions, for along with your idealism you possess a sense of eventual progress — if not today, then tomorrow.

If a woman, you may find that there are times when your very intelligence stands in your way. You will want to achieve things in a man's world that men may resent — and you will have to work twice as hard sometimes to attain half as much as a man. In the end, however, you will succeed in having both your intelligence and your femininity recognized, for you certainly have no intention of denying either.

You need to show special care in the choice of a mate, for it is possible for you to be very much hurt should you select someone whose ideals are much less than your own. To find one who is your equal in ideals will be difficult, but certainly someone close to you in standards is within your acquaintance and your grasp.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Thursday, August 31
 VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) — Minor handicaps may plague your morning — but later hours should be excellent for achieving at least one major goal.
 LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) — You should be able to make outstanding progress during afternoon hours. Morning should be a time for reflection and planning.
 SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) — Use your own common sense in meeting the day's problems. Another's solutions may very well not be best for you.
 SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) — Take all the time you need to keep from making errors. It is important to your future that all go well today.
 CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) — There is the promise of progress in the air — but only if you take the morning for ironing out the wrinkles in latest plans.
 AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) — A good day for making a profit for the Aquarius who either has a good business head or can use someone else's.
 PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 21) — A health upset this morning could spoil an otherwise perfect day. Make every effort to keep clear of accidents and risks.
 ARIES (Mar. 22 - Apr. 20) — Let nature take its course. If you push present plans beyond their momentary limitations you may spoil the progress of your project.
 TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May. 21) — Morning uncertainties should not be allowed to frighten you off. Afternoon hours promise good fortune for Taurus.
 GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) — Routine matters may not be to your liking today — but they must be attended to before you can get on with anything more exciting.
 CANCER (June 22 - July 23) — The best way to combat morning disturbances is by remaining calm.
 LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) — Take special precautions when dealing with others today. You could well be talked into a situation not really to your liking.

Observers Will Get 2 Bodyguards Apiece

SAIGON (AP)—Mounting terrorist efforts to sabotage South Vietnam's election Sunday are leading to special precautions for the safety of the 22 Americans President Johnson is sending in as observers.

Each of the Americans, arriving Wednesday, will get a two-man escort—a U.S. military officer and a security officer in plain-clothes.

Details of troops and police and helicopter gunships will keep watch in their group travels by road and air about the countryside, which are expected to be limited to areas that authorities consider reasonably safe.

An old Vietnam hand, Henry Cabot Lodge, twice ambassador to Saigon, is along as adviser, coordinator and spokesman.

The observation team, originally 20 men, was boosted to 22 before the departure from the United States Monday.

The observers will be housed in the residences of U.S. mission officials which are regularly under 24-hour guard of U.S. military police and Vietnamese national police. But at that security officers say it is impossible to provide total protection.

A sharp increase recently in Viet Cong killings, kidnappings and sabotage gave point to a report from U.S. and South Vietnamese sources that the guerrilla enemy had plotted a country-wide campaign to wreck the voting with increased military attacks, terrorism and propaganda. The sources said seized documents, intelligence reports and information obtained from captured guerrillas spelled out the plan.

One captured document called for Communists in the Da Nang area to "smash the buffoonery of the election," suggesting that this would provide momentum to force a new political crisis.

In politicking of the day, presidential candidate Tran Van Huong told a news conference that, because of complaints from civilians in the race, the campaign is now going normal.

"Pressures and intimidations of the local authorities against our campaign workers has been reduced," he said.

Huong, 64, a former premier, is considered the leading civilian candidate, with Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky still seen as the best bet to win.

Some of the pressures and intimidations that Huong spoke of have been certified by some of the 550 newsmen now working in South Vietnam, but whether they were the result of orders from Thieu and Ky or the work of overzealous underlings has not been shown. Most of the charges lodged by the civilian candidates, however, are unprovable.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Today is Wednesday, Aug. 30, the 242nd day of 1967. There are 123 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1645, a peace treaty was made by the Dutch and Indians at New Amsterdam.

On this date: In 30 B.C. Cleopatra killed herself by letting an asp bite her.

In 1780, Benedict Arnold sent a message to the British that he would surrender the American fort at West Point.

In 1924, the Dawes plan was signed in London, arranging the payment of Germany's World War I reparations.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur arrived in Japan at the end of World War II and set up headquarters in Yokohama.

Also in 1945, an international committee indicted 24 top German leaders as major war criminals.

Ten years ago — U.S. officials said it was known that the Soviet Union had tested several intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy designated W. Willard Wirtz as secretary of labor.

One year ago — French President Charles de Gaulle arrived in Cambodia and was praised for his opposition to the Vietnam war.

Ray Page Enters Mayo Clinic

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, underwent a physical checkup Tuesday at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

John Kirby, special assistant superintendent, said the examination was routine and that Page has been in good health.

Dirksen Declares 'No Sit-In Here'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Tuesday there "will be no sit-in in the office of the minority leader, and I don't care who it is."

Dirksen made this remark when he was asked at a news conference about an incident in his office Monday. Welfare recipients were swarming through the Senate side of the capitol, protesting against House cuts in some relief categories.

Told that his outer office was jammed with a noisy and unruly crowd, Dirksen said he walked into the room to find a young man standing in the center of the crowd with a notebook and pencil in hand.

"I reached over to pick a hair off his shoulder — I don't know whether it was his or somebody else's — and he reared back and said in a loud voice 'you struck me,'" Dirksen recounted.

Doubling up what he himself described as a ham-like fist, Dirksen said he had not struck the young man, whom he did not identify.

"If I had hit him, he probably would be spinning toward the Potomac (river) until next Tuesday," Dirksen said.

The GOP leader said that his office is a place for transaction of public business "and any obstruction in public business can't be tolerated." He said the

'Fugitive' Ends Series Free Man

NEW YORK (AP) — After four years on the run, "The Fugitive" cleared himself of murdering his wife and brought her killer to justice Tuesday night in an unprecedented windup to the television series.

The show in which the real killer is unmasked — it was the one-armed man after all — was the final of a two-part episode ending the series on the ABC television network. The show now goes into syndicated reruns.

The end came when Dr. Richard Kimble, played by David Janssen, battled the one-armed killer on a high ride in a deserted amusement park. Just as the man seemed certain to kill Kimble, Lt. Girard—the policeman who has dogged the fugitive's tracks all these years—winged the one-arm man and sent him toppling over a guard rail to his death.

Then, after years of silence, Kimble's brother-in-law admitted seeing the one-armed man in his sister's house the night she was slain.

Coming during the summer rerun period, the concluding chapters sparked high interest among viewers.

Williams Wins Wide Victory In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Rep. John Bell Williams, who pledged to seek a U.S. constitutional amendment to permit states to control their schools, swept to victory Tuesday night in a runoff primary for governor. Winning the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in Mississippi.

Williams, an arch foe of the national administration, took a lead over State Treasurer William Winter in the first hours of the vote counting and pulled progressively farther away.

Williams led Winter by 30,000 votes as returns neared the two-thirds mark. He will face Republican Rubel Phillips in the Nov. 7 general election.

The apparent surge in anti-Lyndon Johnson feeling also swept Charles Sullivan to victory in the lieutenant governor's race. Sullivan was an unpledged presidential elector in 1960 who cast Mississippi's votes for Virginia Democratic Sen. Harry Byrd.

The candidate given the best chance of becoming Mississippi's first Negro sheriff since the 1890s lost decisively to his white opponent.

Calvin C. Williams, 43, was defeated by Mrs. Dan S. McKay, the wife of the incumbent sheriff and tax collector of rural Claiborne County, bordering the Mississippi River. Although Claiborne County does not have the largest percentage of Negroes of any county in the state, its 8,245 Negro residents make up 76 per cent of the population. The vote showed that Negroes in substantial numbers cast ballots for Mrs. McKay.

Williams, 48, and Winter, 44, were the victors in a seven-man first primary three weeks ago. Since then they campaigned largely on personal issues with each stressing his opposition to the policies of the national administration.

demonstration seemed to him to be in the nature of a sit-in. He said he called three policemen who expelled the crowd.

SEMI-ANNUAL SALE

Saturday, September 2, 1967
7:30 P.M.

Swine Evaluation Station located on Western Illinois University Farm, Macomb, Illinois
57 PERFORMANCE TESTED BOARS
ARE BEING OFFERED IN THIS SALE

All boars were fed the same ration until they reached 200 lbs. weight or 170 days of age, whichever came first. All boars were kept in individual concrete pens while on test. The littermate slaughter hogs were in pens of 4 head until they reached 200 lbs. The ration fed consisted of a complete, pelleted, 16 per cent crude protein ration. All litters were vaccinated against hog cholera and erysipelas before arriving at the station. The littermate slaughter hogs were cut out by Oscar Mayer, Davenport, Iowa, and the carcass data computed by the Department of Agriculture at Western Illinois University and Oscar Mayer. The Boar Index listed for each Boar is computed on the same basis as the Index used at the Iowa Test Stations. The Index is computed as follows:
Index = 117 + 50 (Daily Gain - 50) (Feed Efficiency) - 40 (Backfat) + 3% (Ham & Loin)

GUARANTEE:
All boars are guaranteed breeders provided the recommendations are complied with. Adjustments, when necessary, are to be made between the purchaser and breeder within 90 days of sale date. All boars are tested and clean of bangs and leptos. Registration papers will be furnished by the breeder upon request. All boars are vaccinated against cholera, erysipelas and leptos.

Announce Schedule, Routes For School Buses In District 117

Opening day of school in Jacksonville District 117 is Friday, Sept. 1. Buses will run essentially the already established routes with student pick-ups at the same times and places as at the close of school last year.

Elementary and junior high schools will be in session until 11 o'clock Friday morning with return trips from these schools to homes beginning at that time.

High school students will be provided transportation from the school to homes on this first day at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Beginning Tuesday, September 5, all buses will be on essentially the same daily time and route schedules as last year. Exceptions are as follows:

The bus accommodating children in the Westgate region south of Mound Avenue will have to be rerouted because of road work in this area.

Temporarily, students living south of Northvale Avenue will be picked up at the Carole Jean Super Market parking lot.

Dr. Harold Loyd To Speak Sunday At Centenary

Dr. W. Harold Loyd, assistant to Bishop Lance Webb of the Illinois area, will be speaker at the 10 o'clock worship service at the 10 o'clock worship service at Centenary Methodist Church. His subject will be "The World in The Church," and he will be assisted in the service by the host pastor, Donald L. Batz.

Dr. W. Harold Loyd

Dr. Loyd was associate pastor at First Methodist Church, Peoria, at the time Mr. Batz was a high school youth decided to enter the ministry, and was primarily influential in that decision. He will be baptizing Rev. and Mrs. Batz's infant daughter, Donnelle Leigh, during the worship service.

Dr. Loyd began his ministry on the East Circuit Jacksonville, in 1944. He was ordained in 1947, after completing a three year pastorate on the Broadlands - Longview Circuit. In addition to his five years in Peoria he has served the Methodist Churches in Fithian, Rantoul and as District Superintendent of both Springfield and Bloomington District.

In 1966 Dr. Loyd was selected by Bishop Webb to become the first appointment as the assistant to the Episcopal leader.

Educational degrees include a B.A. degree from Carthage College, a B.D. degree from Garrett Theological and MacMurray College has awarded Mr. Loyd a Doctorate of Divinity Degree. He has been elected as a ministerial delegate to the General and Jurisdictional Conferences in 1964 and again for 1968.

He and his wife, Valeria, are parents of three children: John, a student at Southern Illinois University; Anne, a student at Illinois Wesleyan University and Martha, a high school student.

Local Woman's Brother Takes Grand American

A Jacksonville woman's brother, Herman Welch rang up a perfect 100 score, competing in his first Grand American trapshoot at Vandalia, Ohio, to win the sport's most coveted event, the Grand American handicap.

Welch's sister is Mrs. Warren Massey of 277 Finley, both of whom are former Roodhouse, Ill. residents. Their mother, Mrs. Herman Welch still lives in Roodhouse.

Welch, a 46-year old General Motors foreman from Downers Grove, Ill., was an estimated $12,000 richer following his nine days at the trapshooting event. Welch cracked 100 targets from 20½ yards for his perfect score.

He posted his score early in the event and then had to wait it out while a field of 2,928 sharpshooters gunned for his perfect score and a possible tie. Welch used a Winchester model 12 shotgun to shatter the targets, and also used the same gun to register a 94 in the preliminary handicap.

Apple Picking Underway in Jersey, Calhoun

JERSEYVILLE — Another symbol of autumn's approach is the arrival in the rural picture of the apple picker with his basket and ladder. Apple picking will get under way on a wide-spread scale in Jersey and Calhoun county orchards this week.

John Surgeon, superintendent of the large orchards in the Grafton vicinity, reported here Tuesday that picking of fall apples will begin in the orchards of his locality Thursday morning.

The first variety to be picked will be the Jonathan and the quality this season is described as good, in fact better than usual.

Following the gathering of the Jonathans will come the picking of the Starking Delicious, Golden Delicious, Roman Beauty and other later maturing varieties with the winesaps completing work at the harvest in late October.

Late spring freezes created considerable loss to some of the apples this season. The fruit buds that survived have produced a top quality of fruit as to size, quality and color.

YOUNGBLOOD CHOIR PLANS PROGRAM

A special program of inspirational music will be presented by the choir of Youngblood Baptist church in Nortonville at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 3rd. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Passavant Intensive Care

NEW INTENSIVE CARE UNIT—Mrs. Mary Anthony, R.N. examines a piece of equipment in the new Passavant hospital intensive care ward, located on the third floor of the hospital. The unit, which opened this week, will provide for constant care for acutely ill patients.

ROUND-THE-CLOCK-CARE — A professional nurse and an assistant are on duty at all hours of the day in the intensive care unit of Passavant hospital. Personnel selected for this duty are those particularly skilled in this kind of nursing.

For Acutely Ill Patients Of Hospital

A new intensive care unit at Passavant Memorial Area Hospital has been opened to provide intensive nursing care for acutely ill patients who need constant observation and attention.

The new facility is located on the third floor in space resulting from extensive remodeling. Like similar units being installed in many modern hospitals, it is scientifically designed and equipped and carefully staffed to meet the special needs of acutely ill patients.

Admission and release from the unit will be made at the order of the attending physician. Very few patients in the hospital at any one time need the kind of constant care which this unit provides.

Placing these patients in one unit provides round-the-clock care which the staff could not duplicate if the patients were in separate rooms throughout the hospital.

A professional nurse and an assistant are on duty at all hours of the day and night. Personnel selected are those particularly skilled in this kind of nursing.

Because its organization differs from that of general care nursing units, special visiting regulations are in effect for intensive care.

Visiting will be limited to 10-minute periods (beginning on the hour), to one person at a time, and to adult members of the immediate family.

Friends and relatives also are asked to delay the sending of gifts and flowers until patients have been returned to general care nursing units.

Jaycees 7th Annual Radio Days Sept. 9-10

The Jacksonville Jaycees have begun preparations for their seventh annual "Radio Days" over radio station WLDS AM & FM. Dick Cody, 1967 Radio Days Chairman, has announced the dates this year will be Saturday, September 9, and Sunday, September 10.

Cody said the Jaycees will take over all phases of the broadcasting operations and will act as commercial salesmen, deejays, newscasters and announcers and will provide hours of entertainment for WLDS listeners. Cody said the Jaycees will be "on the air" all day on Saturday, and from 1-6 p.m. on Sunday.

An organizational meeting was held on Monday of this week at which time assignments were given to those members who are now selling advertising. The commercial announcements are sold to local and area business places, with the proceeds going towards support of the more than twenty projects conducted annually in this community by the Jaycees.

Road District Seven Election Tomorrow

Voters of Road District 7 will go to the polls Thursday to decide a proposition to levy a tax for the building and maintaining of roads in that district.

Harry E. Story, attorney for the road district, explained that the election is necessary because South Jacksonville, previously included in the district, created their own road district this year.

Story said that in past years, tax funds collected from the village helped finance half of the road district, but because of their withdrawal, this tax levy has become necessary.

The area affected will be territory surrounding Jacksonville on the south, east and north.

Any legal resident of Road District 7 is eligible to vote, regardless of the fact if he registered in the last election. The Jacksonville municipal airport is the polling place, which will open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

The amount of the tax to be levied is .167 percent on $100 per assessed valuation of property, and it will be used for preparing earth roads for oiling and rockings, and their subsequent maintenance.

FORMER PATTERSON RESIDENT WEDS CALIFORNIA GIRL

PATTERSON — Mrs. Cora Bain has received word of the marriage of her grandson, Navy Lt. (j.g.) Jerry L. Bain to Barbara Fern Kennedy, Saturday, Aug. 26th in the Methodist Chapel at Long Beach, Calif.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Kennedy, of Long Beach, and Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bain of Belleville, former Patterson residents.

The newlyweds will reside in California where he is stationed with the Navy.

The tax, if approved, will remain in effect for five years, at which time another proposition will be presented to the voters.

Story said that Road District Commissioner Ray Hayes and Clerk Frank Newbery, both newly-elected in April, have complied with all the legal requirements prior to the election.

He said that the necessary petitions had been circulated and signed, and that notice of the impending election had been posted in ten different places.

Voters will either vote "for" or "against" the issue on the ballot Thursday.

Appellate Court Upholds Decision On Britt's Bail

A Jacksonville man's request for bail has been denied by the Fourth District Appellate Court, State's Attorney Charles J. Ryan disclosed Wednesday.

The appeal was made to the appellate court on behalf of Alfred E. Britt, 76, of 647 South East street, convicted on the charge of giving alcoholic liquor to a person under 21 years of age.

The decision upheld a prior ruling handed down by Associate Circuit Judge John B. Wright.

Ryan maintained in his objection to the motion, filed by Larry J. Flynn for Britt, that the trial court judge did not abuse his discretion in denying bail pending appeal, and that the trial court decision, made by Judge Wright, should be upheld.

Britt was sentenced to six months in Menard penitentiary June 26.

An appeal now on the appellate court's decision would take up to three months, and Britt at that time, barring any unforeseen circumstances would be released from prison.

OKs POSTPONEMENT ON TRAFFIC CASE

A Jacksonville man, charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, appeared before Magistrate Paul Fenstermaker Wednesday morning and asked for time to appear in court with an attorney.

The man was identified as Bowdy Schirz, 37, of 1358 South East street, who previously pleaded guilty to the charge.

Judge Fenstermaker set September 11 for his re-appearance.

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — Phyllis Ann Stremming, 19, of Dieterich, was chosen Illinois Dairy Princess of 1967 Tuesday night in Quincy.

The Effingham County entry was crowned by the outgoing princess, Mary Pat Taylor of Bonfield in Kankakee County.

Diane Harms, 18, of Fairbury in Livingston County was selected first runnerup, followed by Mary Doreen Smith, 19, of Rochester in Sangamon County.

Miss Stremming will be the Illinois candidate for the national Dairy Association next year.

DEAN MARTIN'S FATHER DIES

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Guy Crocetti, 75, father of singer Dean Martin, died Monday. Crocetti, a barber, emigrated to the United States from Pescara, Italy, at the age of 17. He settled in Steubenville, Ohio, but had lived in Southern California since 1941.

INJURED IN FALL

A 77-year old Jacksonville man was treated at Holy Cross hospital shortly before three o'clock Tuesday afternoon for injuries suffered in a fall.

Dave Bailey of 822 Allen avenue was reportedly walking home from the business district when he fell near the corner of East Court and North Clay.

Bailey was taken to the hospital by ambulance and was later released.
